STUDENTS' SAFETY TOP PRIORITY

THE MINISTRY WILL NOT SACRIFICE THE HEALTH OF ITS STUDENTS, SO IF THERE IS ANY RISK TO THEIR HEALTH, THE OPTION OF E-LEARNING WILL BE MADE AVAILABLE TO THEM

Dr Abdullah bin Khamis Ambosaidi
Undersecretary for Education at the Ministry of Education

The Ministry of Education will implement the decision taken by the Supreme Committee

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Students in Oman who do not wish to return to school once they reopen, but wish to continue their online learning due to concerns over possible infection by COVID-19 can do so, the Undersecretary for Education at the Ministry of Education has said.

"The epidemiological indicators currently show a rise in the numbers of deaths and cases of infections, so the ministry is thinking of an alternative scenario for students, which is e-learning," said Dr Abdullah bin Khamis Ambosaidi. "This decision will be taken by the Supreme Committee to deal with COVID-19, and the Ministry of Education will implement these decisions."

"The ministry will not sacrifice the health of its students, so if there is any risk to their health, the option of e-learning will be made available to them," he added.

The Undersecretary for Education was speaking to Al Shabiba, the sister Arabic publication of the Times of Oman.

Do not exaggerate

Abdullah Ambosaidi also requested people to not exaggerate the current situation and make a bigger deal out of it than required. He said that now was the time for people to come together and support each other, with the decision for pupils to return to schools being put into effect by the Supreme Committee.

"The ministry did not take the decision of reopening schools until all the options were presented to the committee," said the undersecretary.

"The directives to return to schools in this manner came from the highest decision-making authorities in this country. The decision was made to plan for this return in November, so that we could assess the epidemiological situation. We will not expose our students to dangerous situations."

Oman to consider reopening of mosques in mid-November

MUSCAT: The Ministry of Awqaf and Religious Affairs has said that, in line with precautionary measures, it will take a suitable decision on the opening of mosques and areas of worship with effect from mid-November 2020, depending on local indicators to be issued by the Supreme Committee tasked with tackling developments resulting from coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

The decision will also bear on infection peak reports to be issued by the Supreme Committee, the Ministry added.

In its statement on Monday, the Ministry reaffirmed its extreme keenness to resume the opening of mosques and worship areas shut down due to COVID-19.

It pointed out that the Supreme Committee, which convened on 22 September 2020, expressed its deep anxiety about COVID-19 developments and instances of disease comeback in the local and international arenas, leading to a surge in infection cases and associated mortality cases.

The Ministry explained that, due to the prevalence of impacts of the pandemic on public health, Sharia wisdom requires that precautionary measures have to be taken to protect life, thanks to the Sharia's ample space for judgment on performing prayers (without compromising health or life).

At the conclusion of its statement, the Ministry prayed to the Almighty Allah to protect Oman and the rest of the world from the pandemic and to grant the patients quick recovery. -OMA

Tourist spending in Oman almost doubles in 5 years

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Money spent by tourists coming to Oman nearly doubled between 2015 and 2019, according to figures from the National Centre for Statistics and Information (NCSI).

The NCSI, in its Tourism Statistics Bulletin for 2019, reported that inbound tourism expenditure in 2015 was OMR364.75 million, an amount which increased to OMR684.7 million in 2019, reflecting a growth of nearly 87 per cent.

The average spending of a tourist in the country rose from OMR138.5 in 2015 to OMR200 in 2019. Oman has earmarked tourism as one of the areas of development in the years to come, as part of its move to diversify its economy.

Dr Khalifa Abdullah Hamad Al Barwani, the chief executive of the NCSI, said this was "within the framework of the efforts made by many countries of the world, including the Sultanate, to avoid the negative effects resulting from fluctuations in international oil prices and their impact on their economies, through their efforts to search for alternative and safe sources of income for their national economies.

"From this standpoint, the Sultanate's interest was developed towards working on a number of promising economic sectors, including the tourism sector, to be an important tributary of its national economy and a secure source of income," he said in the report. "The tourism sector is one of the most important sources of income for many countries of the world."

Air tickets and accommodation made up the bulk of money spent by tourists coming to Oman, accounting for 32 per cent (OMR221.8 million) and 30 per cent (OMR205.8 million) of their expenditure.

Money spent on food and beverages made up another OMR92 million (13.5 per cent), while transportation costs accumulated in the country (OMR51 million) and shopping (OMR54 million), accounted for more additions to money spent in the country.

"If the government wants to attract visitors to the Sultanate, it should make efforts to upgrade the tourism sector and continue to develop its infrastructure as a promising and reliable source of income to the gross national product," added the NCSI in its report. "This is in addition to targeting new markets and marketing the Sultanate as a safe and diversified tourist destination."

Resumed sporting activity in Oman to give players an immunity boost

MUSCAT: The recently resumed sports activities will add to the immunity of the athletes and benefit everyone involved with the activity in diverse ways, coaches and analysts in the country have said, welcoming the decision that was eagerly awaited.

While the natural immunity boost from playing will help the players during the COVID-19 pandemic, for fans its entertainment value remains high as ever. Coaches, on the other hand, can resume preparing their players for professional matches.

Their comments came after the decision was made to resume sports tournaments in Oman, although people are not allowed to attend them.

Shiv Gupta, a sports analyst and owner of a cricket academy in the country, said this was something many were looking forward to.

"Sports is directly related to immunity, because when you play sports, the hormones that your body releases act as a natural immunity booster," he said. "It also helps burn fat which leads to a reduction of other health problems."

Gupta added: "We have looked forward to the return of sports. It is a great way for us to get together as a family right now, because gathering outside in large numbers is still not allowed. We gather around at about 6pm, and by the time the matches are over, it is about 10 or 11pm, so this fits well into our schedule, and we can then prepare for the next day."

Contributing to this, Chuck

Martini, the head of the Muscat Football Academy, welcoming the development, hoped fans would soon be allowed to support their teams in person.

Speaking on the impact of the pandemic, he said, "This has really thrown a lot of team sports, and we were waiting to find out how we were going to come back to playing. We now seem to be heading towards a transitory period where players are tested, and social distancing is in place...that will of course help.

"We are in a situation where it is still difficult to see what lies ahead," added the former Leicester City and Morocco international goalkeeper. "We hope and we pray that this pandemic ends soon and that we are able to return to our normal lives. All of us miss sports as a part of life, because it plays a big role in today's society. The players would have missed it, the coaches would have missed it, and of course, the fans would've missed it."

With both coaches running academies, they say it will not be possible for children to return to playing team sports immediately, until the rules regarding social distancing and hygiene are properly understood and practiced by them.

Martini said: "In a team sport, you may not be able to play sports immediately, but we can still work on our technique, on aspects such as passing, shooting or dribbling... things that don't necessarily have to be team-related. I've been telling our children to follow their training, and make sure they maintain their technique."

< FROM A1 Parents consent needed for e-learning

With the ministry working closely with the Supreme Committee to deal with coronavirus (COVID-19), the undersecretary also said parents and guardians of students had the right to not send them to school, if they felt they were in danger of being exposed to infection.

However, they must undertake certain obligations with the ministry towards ensuring their child is able to receive the appropriate standards of education.

“The guardian must sign an undertaking which says his son or daughter aims to study through e-learning, and the student must commit to taking the exams designated for the subjects he or she is studying,” said Ambosaidi.

“The first working day on which teachers returned to schools went well, and additional efforts to spread awareness of the measures required right now were taken by some directorates of education,” he added.

“We noticed some teachers holding small celebrations marking the return to schools, so we will issue a circular to school administrators asking staff to remember to maintain physical distancing and pay attention to the rules currently in place.”

Trump avoided tax for years, says report

US president paid no income taxes in 10 of the past 15 years because he reported losing more money than he made

NEW YORK: President Donald Trump paid just $750 (€644) in federal income taxes in 2016, the year he ran for president, and in 2017, his first year in the White House, according to a report on Sunday in The New York Times.

He also paid no federal income taxes in 10 of the past 15 years because he reported losing more money than he made, the report said. Trump has fiercely guarded his tax filings and is the only US president in modern times not to make them public, despite saying he would.

The report comes at a pivotal moment ahead of the first presidential debate on Tuesday and weeks before a divisive election against Democrat rival Joe Biden. The disclosure comes from tax return data the Times obtained extending over 20 years.

Trump dismissed the accusations as "totally fake news," during a press conference on Sunday.

"First of all, I paid a lot and I paid a lot of state income taxes too... It'll all be revealed," the Republican president said.

Democrats jumped on the allegations, with House Speaker Nancy Pelosi saying it showed "Trump's disdain for America's working families."

Biden's campaign team posted a tweet stating how much federal income tax had been paid by teachers ($7,239), firefighters ($5,283) and nurses ($10,216) — workers who have been hit hard by the global coronavirus pandemic and US wildfires — in comparison to Trump.

How did Trump reduce his tax bill?

The report in the Times showed that Trump found multiple ways to reduce his tax bill.

He took tax deductions on personal expenses such as housing, aircraft and $70,000 to style his hair while he filmed a reality TV game show named "The Apprentice."

Losses in the property businesses solely owned and managed by Trump appear to have offset income from his stake in the game show and other entities with multiple owners.

During the first two years of his presidency, Trump relied on business tax credits to reduce his tax obligations. The Times said $9.7 million worth of business investment credits that were submitted after Trump requested an extension to file his taxes allowed him to offset his obligations and pay just $750 each in 2016 and 2017.

From 2010 onwards, Trump reduced his tax bill via a $72.9 million tax refund that is the subject of an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) audit, said the Times report.

What else did the report find?

The details of the tax filings revealed a series of financial losses and income from abroad that could come into conflict with his responsibilities as president.

Trump's financial disclosures indicated he earned at least $434.9 million in 2018, but the tax filings reported a $47.4 million loss, including from some of his best-known businesses. DW

CORONAVIRUS INFECTIONS

Merkel worried Germany could face significant COVID-19 surge

BERLIN: Chancellor Angela Merkel is deeply worried about sharply rising coronavirus infections in Germany, her spokesman said Monday.

"The development of infection numbers is of great concern to us," Steffen Seibert said.

"We should not permit the virus to spread exponentially in certain places," he added.

Merkel warned top officials from her conservative Christian Democratic Union (CDU) during a video meeting earlier on Monday that daily new infection numbers could reach 19,200 if the trend for rising cases continues, reported news agency AFP and German daily national newspaper Bild, citing unnamed party sources.

Infections have been rising across Europe for weeks, with France and Spain reporting the sharpest increases of over 10,000 a day. In Germany, data from the country's Robert Koch Institute (RKI) for infectious diseases showed the number of confirmed coronavirus cases in Germany are also on the rise. Daily infections increased by 1,192 on Monday. New infections reached over 2,000 per day on average during the last week.

By comparison, at the peak of the crisis in late March and early April, Germany was reporting more than 6,000 new cases a day.

Seibert urged for localized outbreaks to be quickly brought under control. He also asked German citizens to keep to strict hygiene measures including masks if social distancing cannot be maintained.

He called for people to exercise caution and rationality, and at times accept "necessary restrictions" in order to spare Germany the worst of the pandemic during autumn and winter. DW

Hoffenheim upset defending champions Bayern in Bundesliga

Bayern looked more active but wasn't able to create clear-cut chances against a well-positioned Hoffenheim defence

BERLIN: Hoffenheim ended Bayern Munich's run of 32 unbeaten games after Andrej Kramaric was on target twice in a 4-1 win to ensure a perfect start to the season in the final match of the Bundesliga second round on Sunday.

Bayern started highly motivated in the encounter and took command while Hoffenheim kept 11 men behind the ball in the opening stages. Bayern looked more active but wasn't able to create clear-cut chances against a well-positioned Hoffenheim defence.

Hoffenheim then grabbed the lead out of the blue with 16 minutes gone when Ermin Bicakcic headed home Dennis Geiger's corner kick to stun Hansi Flick's men.

Bayern responded well but still lacked in penetration to overcome Hoffenheim's defense. To make things worse, Hoffenheim doubled their advantage eight minutes later as Munas Dabbur capitalized on a misplaced clearance from Benjamin Pavard to beat goalkeeper Manuel Neuer into the far post corner.

PERFECT START TO SEASON: Bayern started highly motivated in the encounter and took command while Hoffenheim kept 11 men behind the ball in the opening stages.

The "TSG" should have added another goal to their lead but neither Christoph Baumgartner nor Kramaric were able to beat Neuer at the half hour mark.

Bayern increased the pace and eventually halved the deficit in the 36th minute when Joshua Kim-mich curled the ball from 16 meters into the top right corner.

Kramaric had another chance on target in the closing stages of the first half but Neuer was on guard and kept his team in the game with a diving save.

After the restart, both sides traded attacks as Dabbur pulled over the target from a promising position before Joshua Zirkzee rattled the woodwork from a tight angle on the hour mark.

Bayern coach Hansi Flick added more quality with Leon Goretzka and Robert Lewandowski coming on the pitch but the goals were scored at the other end of the pitch as Ihlas Bebou set up for Kramaric, who kept his nerves to overcome Neuer from inside the box in the 77th minute.

Things went from bad to worse as Neuer felled Bebou inside the box to concede a penalty in the closing period. Kramaric stepped up to sew up the 4-1 victory on home soil.

With the result, Hoffenheim capture the top spot with two wins from two games whereas Bayern Munich slip to the 7th position after suffering their first loss in 2020.

"We kept Bayern at distance and finished off our fast breaks. Moreover, we fought as a team on the pitch. This is why we won today," Hoffenheim goalkeeper Oliver Baumann said.

Elsewhere, Freiburg and Wolfsburg shared the spoils following a 1-1 stalemate as Josip Brekalo cancelled out Nils Petersen's opener. ANI

INDIAN PREMIER LEAGUE

My performance a reflection of Smith and team's faith in me, says Rahul Tewatia

DUBAI: Rahul Tewatia was the star of the show on Sunday night as he joined hands with Sanju Samson to help Rajasthan Royals to chase down the highest-ever total in the history of the Indian Premier League. But the all-rounder says it was a pure reflection of the faith skipper Steve Smith and the RR management had shown in him leading into the tournament. Speaking to ANI, Tewatia said that he was termed the 'game-changer' by the team and it was only about reposing the faith shown in him by a team that has stars like Smith, Jos Buttler, Jofra Archer and Samson among others.

"You either grab an opportunity or get bogged down by it. Smith and team told me I am their 'game-changer'. So, it was my duty to ensure that I reposed their faith. When the team and a stalwart like Smith backs you, the job is anyway half done. I am blessed to be a part of the RR family," he smiled.

But the start wasn't that smooth and memes had started to flood social media when Tewatia struggled to connect. Yet, the all-rounder believes it was always about that one hit.

"No doubt I struggled initially. But what kept me going was that I always knew I was one hit away. Once I hit that first six, I knew the flow had come. Also, it was always at the back of my mind that even though I might have missed a few balls to begin with, a few sixes would bring us back in the game,"

GAME-CHANGER: Tewatia said that he was termed the 'game-changer' by the team and it was only about reposing the faith shown in him by the team.

he explained.

Sam Billings famously spoke about Tewatia doing a Dhoni, but for Tewatia it is just the beginning. "I want to make this a habit. I want to win games for my team and trust me the focus is on being consistent. The journey has only just begun," he said.

But how has he managed to stay in rhythm when even the best have struggled to get into the groove post the lockdown? The all-rounder says it is due to the hardwork put in by the Haryana Cricket Association (HCA) behind the scenes during the corona-induced break.

"HCA has been brilliant. Even the best sportsperson can lose focus in such times, but they kept a tab on us, especially Anirudh Chaudhry sir. Be it checking on our diet or our fitness, he would personally speak to the required personnel as well as the players to ensure that there was no interruption in our training cycle. He also keeps the atmosphere lively and encourages everyone's sense of humour.

"It can get daunting to be training on the roof and staying indoors, but the HCA ensured we had mental conditioning classes to keep us prepared for these tough situations. In fact, despite the Haryana team boasting of three international spinners, sir

The start wasn't that smooth and memes had started to flood social media when Tewatia struggled to connect. Yet, the all-rounder believes it was always about that one hit has time and again pushed me to go that extra mile so that I am an automatic choice in the XI. The focus in HCA is on player development," he revealed.

The all-rounder also thanked coach Vijay Yadav for taking extra care of him. "Never heard a no from him whenever I wanted to work on finer nuances of my game. When you are playing at this level, frame and bat swing and these things make a lot of difference and Vijay sir has always treated me like his own and given me maximum attention. I know even if I call him at 2 am to discuss a cricketing point that is bothering me, he will speak with me," he said.

While the world has taken note of Tewatia after Sunday's knock, the youngster is proud that his father appreciated his effort over phone after the innings. ANI

Will take some time for Dhoni to get back old touch: Ganguly

KOLKATA: Chennai Super Kings skipper MS Dhoni's form in the ongoing Indian Premier League has seen critics pull him up. But former India skipper and current BCCI President Sourav Ganguly has backed Dhoni and said that it needs game time for even the best to return to form.

"In the current situation, it will take some time for him to get back to his old touch. He played a cricket match after about one year and six months. It's not easy however good you are. It will take some time," Ganguly said during a media interaction after being named brand ambassador of the Bengal Peerless group. The BCCI President once again spoke of the need to have someone like Dhoni bat higher up in the order.

"When Dhoni was in prime form and was the captain, then I was in broadcast and had said that he should bat at number four," he said.

Dhoni himself has also pointed out how it is about warming up and getting into the groove after the coronavirus-induced break saw athletes spending close to six months indoors.

Speaking after the game against Rajasthan Royals, he said the 14-day quarantine in UAE also didn't help as there was less training time. "I haven't batted for a long time. 14-day quarantine doesn't help," he said when asked why he batted lower down the order against RR. ANI

We got nervous against Leicester City: Pep Guardiola

MANCHESTER: Manchester City's manager Pep Guardiola has admitted that his side was indeed nervous during the Premier League 2020-21 clash against Leicester City.

His remark came as Leicester City defeated Manchester City 5-2.

Guardiola's side took the lead in the match through Riyad Mahrez's goal, but after that, the side collapsed. Jamie Vardy's penalty levelled the scores before the half time and in the second half, Vardy put the Foxes, and then he completed his hat-trick.

"They defend so deep and the lack of creating chances we got nervous. They did not want to play, they just wanted to counter-attack. We know that Vardy runs from far, far away, and [Harvey] Barnes you have to control him. But the moment we started to get nervous, we thought we were not doing well," Manchester City's official website quoted Guardiola as saying.

"We are not going to create 10 chances. We have to know it is difficult. Even at 5-2, Leicester was in the 18-yard box. I am not going to give up, I am going to try to find solutions," he added.

Guardiola also questioned the mentality of his players and he also suggested that the side lost self-belief after they took the lead against Leicester City.

"We played for 30 minutes so good - we scored a goal in [the fourth] minute. But then we started to believe we were not playing well when it was the opposite. We are not strong enough to be stable and patient," Guardiola said.

"We started to think we were playing bad. We told them at half-time they were playing good, try to be patient and the rest will be in our hands," he added.

Manchester City will next take on Leeds United on October 3 in the Premier League. ANI

You were the best fielder inside 30-yard circle: Tendulkar to Rhodes

NEW DELHI: After praising Nicholas Pooran's antics on the boundary ropes against Rajasthan Royals, former India batsman Sachin Tendulkar was quick to point out that no matter what Jonty Rhodes will always remain the best fielder inside the 30-yard circle.

"Jonty, I was talking about saves on the boundary line. In your territory (30 yard circle), you were undoubtedly the best," Sachin Tendulkar tweeted on Monday. In the eighth over, Rajasthan Royals' Sanju Samson had played a pull shot off Murugan Ashwin and it was then that Pooran, at deep mid-wicket, dived full length over the rope to catch the ball.

He was stretching to the maximum possible and then he caught the ball with his left hand. And, a millisecond before falling onto the ground, he flicked the ball back into play and Rajasthan had to settle for just two runs.

After this fielding effort, many former and current players took to Twitter to call Pooran's save as the best fielding effort around the boundary ropes. Rhodes is currently the fielding coach of KXIP.

Rajasthan Royals chased down a total of 224 to defeat KXIP by four wickets at the Sharjah Cricket Stadium on Sunday. For the Royals, Sanju Samson, Steve Smith, and Rahul Tewatia all scored 50+ scores to give the side a victory by four wickets. Tewatia came out to bat at number four and he was struggling at one stage as he had scored just 13 runs from his first 19 balls. However, in the 18th over bowled by Sheldon Cottrell, Tewatia hit five sixes to turn the side.

The left-handed batsman played a knock of 53 as Rajasthan gained an improbable victory.

Sanju Samson had played a knock of 74 runs against Chennai Super Kings (CSK), and he followed it up with an 85-run knock against Kings XI Punjab. Skipper Smith registered an innings of 50 against Punjab as well.

For KXIP, Mayank Agarwal had scored a ton and this was his first hundred in the IPL. The right-handed Mayank played a knock of 106 runs from 50 balls with the help of 10 fours and 7 sixes to take the side's total to 223/2.

Rajasthan has now won their opening two matches in the ongoing edition of the IPL. The side will next lock horns with Kolkata Knight Riders on September 30 while Kings XI Punjab will face Mumbai Indians on October 1. ANI

Diversification bodes well for GCC economies

REPORT: Aberdeen Standard Investments (ASI) believes the strength and wealth of governments in the region, plus the push to expedite diversity across economies, point towards a far healthier long-term outlook, with some early signs starting to appear. - File picture

The long-term outlook for Mena based investors looks surprisingly positive due to digital acceleration and other signals of growth in non-oil sectors due to the global pandemic

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Emerging signs of economic diversification into future-proof sectors bode well for Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) economies and the Middle East and North Africa (Mena) investors long-term, a new study reveals. The long-term outlook for Mena based investors looks surprisingly positive due to digital acceleration and other signals of growth in non-oil sectors due to the global pandemic, Aberdeen Standard Investments (ASI) said in its latest report. COVID-19 continues to ravage economies around the world. The most recent forecast from the International Monetary Fund (IMF) predicts a very gloomy end to 2020 for the GCC with the gross domestic product (GDP) expected to shrink by 7.6 per cent for the year, notably worse than the 2.7 per cent contraction predicted on April 2. However, ASI believes the strength and wealth of governments in the region, plus the push to expedite diversity across economies, point towards a far healthier long-term outlook, with some early signs starting to appear. Edris Alrafi, Head of Middle East & Africa for ASI said, "2020 will be remembered by most as the worst year in recent history for many reasons and the economic devastation should not be downplayed with the remainder of the year expected to be extremely difficult." "However, for investors, it is important to look further ahead, which is where we will see the positive effects of more digitally enhanced and diversified economies coming into play. This is certainly the case in the GCC where there are signs the pandemic has accelerated the economic diversity from oil to non-oil sectors," he added. "This is a very positive signal for investors as they look to focus on long term growth opportunities, rather than be stifled by immediate challenges such as austerity measures via the swift and substantial government spending cuts," he said. The IMF shares some of this optimism, projecting growth of 2.5 per cent in 2021, spurred to some extent by the fact that most equity markets in the GCC have rebounded amid easing lockdown restrictions and rising oil prices. An election-free agenda coupled with relatively low levels of government indebtedness — 39 per cent in Kuwait, 15 per cent in Saudi Arabia and 13 per cent in Abu Dhabi — are further advantages for the GCC as a region is looking to leverage new opportunities. A report from global research giant Frost & Sullivan highlights 'megatrends' that are expected to shape a more diversified GCC economic future. It claims the internet is expected to account for 5 per cent of GDP by 2030, up from 4.1 per cent in 2018, with all six states expected to launch 5G mobile services by the end of 2020. Other notable insights from the report include: 250 fintech start-ups are operating across the GCC, with regional activities projected to expand by 50 per cent over the next five years; and the cumulative installed generation capacity for renewable energy across the GCC is expected to reach 72,300 MW by 2030.

Advances in technology across 5G networks and artificial intelligence, among others, are also expected to help drive digital transformation across all sectors. A recent global study by Mastercard shows a surge in online payments in line with the rush to e-commerce, with 54 per cent of respondents in the UAE saying they believe the preference of e-commerce over in-store shopping is a trend that is here to stay. Edris continued, "The dial has been cranked up on digitisation across all sectors and we are already seeing new consumer behaviours fuelled by the pandemic. "Regional governments embracing new business models and committing to fostering private enterprise in sectors slated for growth will help accelerate this further as will the continued investment in higher-quality infrastructure, renewable energy and digital systems. This should result in strong performances in future-focused sectors such as technology, telecommunications and healthcare." "With several trends breeding diversity in the economic make-up and mind-set within the GCC, there is increasing scope for the right conditions to future-proof growth in the next five to ten years. This could provide us with strong long-term markets helping us to recover from the devastation of 2020."

PARTNERSHIP

Bank Muscat signs pact to on-board Haya Water on its B2B platform

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Bank Muscat, the leading financial services provider in the Sultanate, and Haya Water (Oman Wastewater Services Company), has signed an agreement to on-board the utility's operations to Bank Muscat's B2B platform.

The new system will help the government owned wastewater services utility digitise its payments by completely on-boarding the authority to the B2B platform with access to live support.

The bank's B2B solution will seamlessly and securely integrate with Haya Water's Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) system to provide an automated, two-way data transfer service for high volume online payments. The corporate will be able to optimise the efficiency of its employees by saving on man-hours since personal visits and face-to-face interaction with bank employees will not be required daily for payment processing and reconciliation. Haya Water will be able to provide better service to its customers and other stakeholders because of the straight-through nature of online channels. It will be able to achieve a high degree of automation in payables reconciliation and minimise risks related to payment processes.

Tariq Atiq, DGM - Transaction & Public Sector Banking, said, "As the pioneer of digitalisation technologies in the country, Bank Muscat has collaborated with Haya Water to introduce state-of-the-art technology to digitise its operations and allow greater efficiency in the delivery of its services. A shift to digital typically brings in a host of benefits including efficiency, cost reduction, accountability, speed and scalability. In today's world, digitalisation is no longer an option for organisations. Going ahead, we expect more organisations to take advantage of the high degree of automation and security that is made possible by the B2B Connect solution."

Sabiha Al Kharusi, Acting GM Finance at Haya Water, said, "We are proud to partner with Bank Muscat to use its state-of-the-art B2B Connect solution and greatly improve our operational efficiencies. Our customers, vendors and partners will find it easier to complete their transactions with us and we are confident that this will improve their satisfaction and ease of doing business." The niche B2B Connect solution is an advanced version of online banking targeted mainly at large corporates. With the B2B Connect solution, corporates can carry out payment approvals in their ERP and the information can flow to the bank for processing. Through this solution, institutions can build an efficient and robust payment and reconciliation system. The bank's corporate online banking platform serves as a key solution for corporate payments. With the integration of corporate enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems with the online banking platform, a complete digitalisation process is now in place for corporate payables as well as reconciliation. Bank Muscat also offers corporates other tailor-made solutions such as the Direct Debit solution and Remote Deposit Capture (RDC), which allow corporate customers to smoothly transition towards efficient technology-focused processes.

Nissan X-Trail now available on low EMI

Built for real family adventures, Nissan X-Trail is a customer-centric SUV with the latest technologies, yet still has the traditional benefits of a crossover

MUSCAT: Nissan Oman, from the house of Suhail Bahwan Automobiles (SBA), has announced a special EMI offer on Nissan X-Trail, the highly customer-centric SUV. Customers of Nissan X-Trail can avail an exceptionally low EMI rate of OMR178 (terms and conditions apply). EMIs are calculated based on 3.2 per cent rate of interest, 20 per cent down payment, six-year loan tenure. Subject to credit approvals.

Built for real family adventures, Nissan X-Trail is a customer-centric SUV with the latest technologies, yet still has the traditional benefits of a crossover. Its versatility makes it the ideal car for group activities too. Nissan X-Trail delivers an "Excellent" GSO rated mileage of 15.1km/litre. This mileage is obtained under laboratory test conditions conducted by GSO for the 2.5L SV variant.

An official from Nissan Oman said, "We are delighted to announce low EMI on Nissan X-Trail which offers muscular styling, solid capabilities, next-level technologies, comfort and flexibility. Nissan X-Trail has earned a stamp of approval across the globe. With its strengthened qualities and advanced technologies, the Nissan X-Trail is taking care of diversified requirements of customers in Oman."

Nissan Intelligent Mobility is the name for the brand's strategy which makes the cars more desirable by redefining how they are driven, powered and integrated into society. Powered by a range of Nissan's Intelligent Mobility technologies, the X-Trail is equipped with three new driver-friendly innovative features - Intelligent Rear-View Mirror, Intelligent Emergency Brakes, and Intelligent Cruise Control. The goal is to make Nissan drivers feel more confident, excited, and connected, while also enhancing road and passenger safety.

Nissan X-Trail has always been known for its sculpted and muscular styling, with chiselled lines, high wheel arches and elegant curves on the bonnet. All of those characteristics remain and are now showcased through a distinctive and robust redesign of the front end, adding a new dynamism and more premium styling cues.

When it comes to the exterior of the X-Trail, at its heart is Nissan's latest 'V-motion' grille, wider than before for a more impactful appearance on the road and echoed in the design of the bumper beneath. The redesign makes much greater use of the X-Trail's body colour, with the visible black plastic benefiting from a smart new gloss black finish.

At the rear of the Nissan X-Trail, the bumper has been redesigned to give it a more robust look with chrome detailing. The rear lamp signature has been upgraded to become full LED. The rim's width has been widened - from 34mm to 37.5mm - to provide a more comfortable and safer grip. A new premium style comes from the satin silver detailing on the central spoke which echoes the shape of the car's iconic 'V-motion' front grille.

For adventure-loving families

The Nissan X-TRAIL is a spacious five or seven-seat crossover aimed at adventure-loving families. It delivers best-in-class front headroom and the supreme comfort of fatigue-reducing Zero Gravity front seats. There is a second row that slides and reclines, providing Easy Flex Seating, so you can adjust for maximum legroom, more cargo space, or anywhere in between. And with available tasteful touches like Power Panoramic Moonroof and leather-appointed seats, this is one natural, relaxed, and decidedly upscale environment.

The boot on the Nissan X-Trail is larger than before. Thanks to improved packaging, VDA capacity is up from 550 litres to 565 litres on the five-seat version with all seats in place. Capacity on seven-seat interiors (445 litres) remains unchanged. Total space with all seats folded flat increases to 1,996 litres. Every X-Trail boot comes with Nissan's innovative Flexible Luggage Board System, which allows for shelves and dividers to be adjusted in any one of nine configurations. These include a hidden compartment to keep valuables out of sight, making it the ideal base for family days out.

The cabin of the Nissan X-Trail boasts a raft of upgrades to enhance the existing high-quality feel. Entering the car, the striking steering wheel is the first thing drivers will notice. It echoes the design of Nissan's newest models globally and is standard across the X-Trail range. Now D-shaped, the horizontal base means easier entry and exit for the driver, as well as a sportier look and feel.

Nissan X-Trail has a wider range of interior door trims to distinguish the different grades, while the central armrest storage area has been redesigned. All models are equipped with the CVT XTronic automatic transmission with a restyled gear selector which features a new leather-style gaiter. Depending on the grade chosen, other available features include an opening panoramic sunroof, leather upholstery, privacy glass, dual-zone automatic air-conditioning and roof rails.

Confidence-inspiring safety expertise

Nissan X-Trail continues to offer countless confidence-inspiring innovative safety technologies, including Intelligent Around View Monitor, Rear Cross Traffic Alert, and Blind Spot Warning technology. These advanced technologies amplify Nissan's Intelligent Mobility philosophy and provide Intelligent Power, Intelligent Driving and Integration to increase a driver's confidence and trust in their Nissan X-Trail. Intelligent Rear-View Mirror gives Nissan X-Trail drivers enhanced visibility making their driving experience and reversing even more comfortable with a built-in LCD monitor displaying images from a camera mounted on the rear of the vehicle.

Reflecting customer demands for a superior audio option in the X-Trail, the model features two tweeters at the base of the windscreen, a woofer in each front door and a mid-range speaker in each rear door. Intelligent Emergency Braking (I-EB) is a system that monitors the Nissan X-Trail's speed and proximity to the vehicle ahead and warns the driver if needed to slow down. It can also apply brakes if the driver fails to respond. If a collision is unavoidable, this feature will engage the brakes to help reduce the speed and severity of impact.

Rear Cross Traffic Alert to mitigate the risk of low-speed impacts when reversing out of a parking space. If the driver attempts to reverse when an approaching vehicle is detected, the system gives visual and audible warnings. Another new technology is the Auto Hold Switch, which holds the Nissan X-Trail in a stationary position for up to two minutes and works on hills whether facing up or down. Auto Hold Switch also allows the driver to take their foot off the brake and reduce fatigue.

Nissan continuously develops technology to help improve driving safety. Intelligent Around View Mirror gives drivers the power to see more than just what is behind them when parking. Nissan X-Trail offers the Intelligent Around View Monitor, which consists of four cameras that give drivers a virtual 360° bird's-eye view of their vehicle, with selectable split-screen close-ups of the front, rear, and curbside views, for a better look. And since all obstacles aren't stationary, Moving Object Detection keeps an eye around the Nissan X-Trail and can warn drivers about moving objects detected in the vicinity.

Nissan's Front Collision Warning system is a distinct technological innovation. The system supports the driver in making a judgment by giving information about the situation which is going on outside the typical field of view. Blind Spot Warning (BSW) is a system that detects another vehicle in the blind spot area and an indicator appears in the driver's or front passenger's door pillar and on the available Advanced Drive-Assist Display. Then, if the turn signal is on, the indicator flashes with a warning chime.

Brilliant adaption

The Intelligent 4x4 is responsive and brilliantly adapts to changing conditions. Sand, rain-covered pavement or tight turn, the system automatically sends power to the wheels that need it most.

Intelligent Cruise Control as mentioned earlier, allows drivers to set desired adjustable distance between them and the car in front. As traffic slows down or speeds up, Nissan X-Trail can respond accordingly. Intelligent Engine Braking is a system that uses the CVT transmission to apply engine braking as a driver is slowing for a corner or coming to a stop. Much like shifting to a lower gear in traditional transmissions, it helps give smoother deceleration and a more confident feel when braking.

Haya Water takes part in Road to Oman 2040 Economic Forum

MUSCAT: Haya Water participated recently in the 9th edition of Al Roya Economic Forum. The conference was opened by His Highness Sayyid Fatih bin Fahr Al Said, Special Envoy of His Majesty the Sultan at the Grand Millennium Hotel which comes this year under the theme of The Road to Oman 2040.

Eng. Sulieman bin Musallam Al Rawahi, Corporate Affairs General Manager at Haya Water, said, "The company's participation in this forum comes as one of the partners in the Oman Vision 2040. The company role in the vision is to work alongside other institutions to achieve the lofty goal of the 2040 vision mainly in the strategic guidance.

"These directions aim at providing a decent life for the country's citizens which is exemplified by the sewage project. It is considered to be as one of the main pillars in this objective through the important services that are provided by the wastewater project. These benefits contribute effectively to preserving the environment from pollution, as well as human health, in addition to preserving groundwater from depletion."

Al Rawahi explained that one of the axes the vision dwells on is the importance of the sewage project in the school curricula. The reason behind being implementing this subject is because everyone believes in the vital role that the sewage project plays in completing the country's infrastructure. In addition, it's stemming from the importance of being cultivating this concept in the young's minds starting from an early age aiming to promote the sense of belonging to the national identity.

When citizens see the government's various efforts in strengthening the country's infrastructure system such as education, health, sewage and other basic services, as a result, the pride and belonging to the citizenship concepts will be enhanced.

Eng. Sulieman, responded to question regarding the changes that the company is witnessing particularly after the transfer of the company's affiliation to be under the umbrella of Nama Group, and stated, "Based on the Company's Board of Directors and its Executive Management; and under the direct supervision of the Acting CEO, the work is currently underway to harmonize the company's strategies in line with the government's directions and achieving the Oman Vision 2040, especially those related to reducing the government's financial support and developing the national cadres.

These strategies and plans, whether short or long-term, are linked to international standards and techniques to achieve best practices and improve work performance in line with the company's aspirations to achieve distinguished results and to reach the break-even in the coming years, as well as to expand the wastewater services in various governorates.

He also elaborated on the company's Corporate Business Plan which is currently being reviewed and said, "It has been taken into consideration upon renewal by working on setting goals, measuring indicators and creating new investment opportunities. Our focus is to make a financial profit that is expected to contribute to reducing the government's financial support and achieving the desired goal of reaching a breakeven."

In response to the vision's directions to empower the private sector, Al Rawahi noted that the company is working to activate this aspect by encouraging the private sector establishments to invest and develop the sewage sector. This initiative is expected to accelerate the sector project's execution. He indicated that this activation has appeared recently when the company has announced the first public-private-partnership project (PPP), which was the construction of the Al Misfa Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) and its facilities. It is also hoped that the Company will offer several projects in partnership including the project to connect the Al ShaKakit Farms in the Wilayat of Barka and to establish two STPs in the wilayats of Al Suwaiq and Al Khabourah.
