WEATHER

Heavy rains lash Oman

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Rains lashed parts of Oman late on Tuesday night and in the early hours of Wednesday, causing flooding and significant damage to property in several areas of the country.

Dozens of trees were uprooted as a consequence of the wind and rain. Many struck people's homes and vehicles, damaging them in the process, sometimes extensively. Some of the trees also fell over livestock that could not get out of the way fast enough.

So intense was the weather that it also caused the roofs of some buildings, constructed from tin, steel, and other metals, to come loose, further damaging billboards, shops and homes. Winds blowing at a furious speed also tore out sections of walls, which caused plenty of damage to the vehicles on which they landed.

The Director of Saham Hospital said that damages resulted in the injury of 13 people of which seven were transferred to Sohar Hospital.

In the wilayat of Khabourah in North Al Batinah, though, a section of the wall from a goat shed collapsed, killing many of the animals that had been placed inside for their own shelter. People need to take caution while going out on the roads: many roads have been flooded, requiring motorists to find alternate ways to their destination.

A number of wadis are also overflowing, including Wadi Al Jizzi, Wadi Falaj Al Qabail, Wadi Sahban, and Wadi Al Mahmoum. A number of half-constructed buildings that were yet to be completed also faced the brunt of the rainstorms. The Civil Defence and Ambulance Authority (CDAA) has been busy trying to keep the roads clear, in collaboration with municipal authorities. They were also required to rescue people who'd been caught in the rain: in one instance, three people required extraction after the heavy vehicle and trailer they were driving got stuck in Wadi Deel Al Abdulsalam.

Rescue teams were also able to help two workers who'd gotten stuck under a wall under construction in wilayat Saham. They were provided emergency medical care, and are recovering in hospital. Nizwa Souq – an important commercial hub in Al Dakhiliyah – also faced plenty of flooding that led to serious damage, after rains began at around midnight. >A6

MOVEMENT BAN HELPS CUT COVID CASES IN SULTANATE

Restrictions seem to have helped Oman bring down its daily count to less than 800

Times News Service

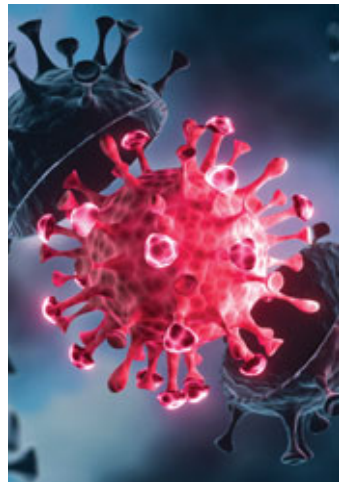

MUSCAT: The movement ban during Ramadan has helped bring down the number of daily COVID-19 cases in the Sultanate to less than 800, a senior official of the Ministry of Health said.

With 770 new cases of coronavirus (COVID-19) registered in Oman on Wednesday, the total number of COVID-19 cases reached 198,572 in the Sultanate. Nine new deaths took the total number of COVID-19-related casualties to 2,071. With 1,372 new cases having recovered, the total number of recoveries has reached 180,547.

The Ministry also pointed out that 75 cases were hospitalised over the past 24 hours, adding that the total number of current hospitalised COVID-19-infected patients stands at 782, of whom 281 are in intensive care units (ICUs).

Speaking to the Times of Oman, a senior official of the MoH said, "The reasons for the decline is due to the high level of awareness among citizens and residents of the Sultanate who are following precautionary measures, including washing hands, wearing mask, adhering to home quarantine, following up on awareness bulletins and everything related to COVID-19 news through the concerned authorities, without paying attention to rumours through audio, readable or visual news."

He also said, "By preventing movement of individuals and vehicles the night ban helped to reduce cases, as there were no longer gatherings or visits between families, youth and individuals, and there were no longer people going to the markets because of the night closure imposed on

2,071 is the total number of COVID-19-related death cases reported in the Sultanate, according to the Ministry of Health all shops, and this helped significantly in the decrease in new infections."

More recoveries

Ibrahim Al Maimani, Social Activist and Data Analyst, said, "By analysing the statistics during the last week, we notice that for the seventh day in a row, the number of recoveries is more than new cases, and that the number of new infections has fallen under a thousand, except on Monday, when the cases reached 1,093."

He confirmed that, in terms of hospitalised cases, the number of inpatient admissions last week reached 833, and yesterday's numbers reached 782, with a decrease of 51 at a rate of six per cent.

As for the cases in intensive care, their number reached 275 last week, and the number reached 281 yesterday, with an increase of six cases at a rate of two per cent. "It is worth noting that the recovery rate continues to rise, reaching 91 per cent in the current week, while last week's rate of recovery rate was 89.5 per cent," he added.

ANCIENT TRADITIONS

This Omani has a passion for the ancient art of rock carving

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Omani national Ahmed Bin Abdullah Al Alawi has found his passion in carving models out of rock, one of the country's most ancient traditions.

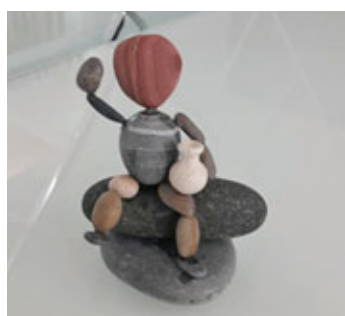

Ahmed's interest in this art was first set in stone when he developed a curiosity for three-dimensional models some 10 years ago.

"Oman's environment has many distinct types and shapes of rocks," he said, in an interview with Oman News Agency. "There are many varieties and colours of rocks, and it is this diversity that has encouraged me to create rock carvings, in an innovative, professional manner that also showcases Omani heritage and culture."

Naturally drawn towards carving traditional objects such as pottery, jewellery, handicrafts, or stones with inscriptions on them, it only takes Ahmed about an hour a week to produce a single sculpture.

Most of his exquisitely carved work is intentionally designed to be small and easy to carry.

"Any work of sculpture must have clearly defined lines and features," he said. "It is necessary to first determine the shape you want to carve, and then choose rocks of the appropriate size or colour that are also free from defects. High-quality equipment must be used to carve, and you must make sure your hands and face are protected during this process."

Nepal's Oli government loses majority

KATHMANDU: The KP Sharma Oli government in Nepal has lost its majority in the parliament ahead of vote of confidence as CPN-Maoist Center withdrew its support formally on Wednesday.

CPN-Maoist Center on Wednesday submitted letter informing the Parliament Secretariat that it no more part of the government led by Prime Minister Oli. “Central committee at its meeting has decided to withdraw support to incumbent government under KP Sharma Oli’s leadership. We have informed the Parliament Secretariat about it too,” spokesperson Narayan Kaji Shrestha told ANI over phone.

Chief Whip of Maoist Center Dev Gurung handed over letter to Secretary at Parliament Secretariat Gopal Nath Yogi at latter’s office inside Singhadurbar, the administrative capital of the nation.

With withdrawal of support, the Oli led government now has lost its majority in the lower house less than a week before vote-of-confidence which was announced earlier this week.

Nepal’s President Bidhya Devi Bhandari earlier this week summoned special session of lower house where Oli is scheduled to take vote of confidence.

The third largest party in the parliament, Maoist Center has 49 lawmakers including House Speaker Agni Sapkota.

Since the ruling CPN-UML has a total 121 lawmakers, Prime Minister Oli is short of minimum 15 lawmakers from the majority mark.

Out of 275 seats, the second largest party in lower house, Nepali Congress has 63 and CPN-Maoist Center has 49 seats after 4 of the MP’s representing the party were “exempted”. -ANI

A1 Vehicles damaged

A number of cars were also submerged by the rains, while many others have been carried away by wadis in which rainwater was flowing at torrential speeds. Some parts of the governorate, however, reported milder weather: people in Al Hamra experienced moderate rains, while Izki also saw lesser rainfall. Rain is expected across many parts of the country until at least Friday, with hailstones also predicted in some areas.

Cloud flow
“Cloud flow will continue over most of the Sultanate, leading to chances of rain and occasional thundershowers, associated with downdraft wind, as well as hail over Musandam, Dhofar, and the Hajar Mountains and adjoining areas,” said the Directorate General of Meteorology in its Wednesday report. Winds are also expected in Al Buraimi and Al Dhahirah, leading to more downpours. The weather is expected to cause reduced visibility, fast-flowing wadis, and rough seas. People involved in farming, agriculture and related work have been requested to protect their livestock and other assets.

Take precautions
“Farmers, livestock breeders, and beekeepers are requested to take the necessary precautions to ensure their safety, and that of their livestock and their beehives, and to keep them away from wadis and reefs, due to thunderstorms accompanied by active winds,” said the Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Water Resources, which also asked fishermen to avoid sailing out to sea during rough weather.

Towns in North Batinah received the maximum amount of rainfall over the last three days: Liwa saw the highest amount of rain (61mm), followed by Saham and Al Khabourah (56mm). Ibra (33mm) in South Sharqiyah and Barka (32mm) in South Al Batinah also saw good amounts of rain.

As part of efforts to provide relief to people who have suffered because of the thunderstorms, Walis in areas that have been particularly hard-hit have organised meetings to assess the impact of the weather. “There has been extensive damage in our area, especially to homes and properties,” said Sawsan Al Yaqoubi, vice president of the Development Committee of Al Khabourah. “Teams from the committee and Al Khabourah Municipality, along with the Wali, have inspected the damage caused to families, so that they can take steps to meet their needs.”

“The meeting to decide how to help them will take place on Thursday, so that we can list what aid is required,” she added. “We need to urgently provide housing to three families who have had their property damaged because of the weather, and this needs to be treated as a matter of emergency. We ask everyone to cooperate with the teams to see what they can do to help.”

petitors while also providing the platform for exhilarating action on the water.

Taking place in Khasab, Musandam, fifty of the best windsurfers from 15 countries in Asia will compete over six days between 11-16 October 2021, including past champions and promising young riders from 15 countries.

Conditions are expected to be perfect for sailing with a combination of powerful sea breezes and pleasant waves making for ideal sailing conditions while shining a light on Musandam as one of Oman's most exciting and unexplored tourist destinations.

Rashid Al Kindi, Director of Sailing at Oman Sail, said, "This is an exciting return to elite competition for windsurfers across Asia and a great opportunity to introduce Khasab as a new venue in Oman for world class sport. We are looking forward to welcoming the fleet to Oman and one of the first international events post-Tokyo 2020. As well as being a major continental championship for the Asia region, this is also the first step for many on the road to Paris 2024."

Piotr Oleksiak, International Windsurfing Association manager, said, "The introduction of the Formula Foil this year makes the Asian Windsurfing Championships 2021 an interesting proposition going forward. We are delighted to be returning to Oman, which has become the example to follow for the growth of sailing in Asia.

This is an important event for the sailors in all classes, as both a return to action and a chance to compete for the title of Asian Champion in the three classes. We look forward to enjoying Oman's traditional warm hospitality at a great new venue in Khasab, Musandam."

The Asian Windsurfing Championships 2021 will be held at the Atana Musandam Hotel, Musandam, the northernmost exclave of the Sultanate of Oman. Its spectacular landscape has seen the area become known as the 'Norway of the Middle East' due to the imposing mountains rising from the sea and its clear blue seas reminiscent of the Scandinavian fjords, known locally as khors.

The city of Khasab, just two hours' drive from Dubai and a short flight from Oman's capital, Muscat, has the potential to become Oman's next thriving tourism hotspot.

IPL 2021 suspended for indefinite period: BCCI informs Delhi High Court

NEW DELHI: The Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) on Wednesday informed the Delhi High Court that the decision has been taken to suspend the 14th edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL) indefinitely amid the rising COVID-19 cases.

The submission came on Wednesday during the hearing of a Public Interest Litigation (PIL) which sought enquiry as to why the IPL was being prioritised over public health. After taking notes of the submission made by Solicitor General Tushar Mehta representing the BCCI, the bench of Justice DN Patel and Justice Jasmeet Singh adjourned the matter for May 19, as none from the petitioner's side appeared in the matter.

The plea was filed by advocate Karan Singh Thukral and social activist Inder Mohan Singh. Thukral is a practicing advocate and presently suffering from COVID-19 and has been distressed to see the state of affairs in the city and the complete failure of the medical system.

In the plea filed through advocates HS Thukral and Kapil Kumar, petitioners urged to issue direction to the respondents to hold an enquiry as to why the IPL was being prioritised over public health. It had also sought to stop the matches to an immediate effect.

"Issue a Writ of Mandamus or any other appropriate writ, order or direction directing the Respondent(s) to hold an enquiry as to why the IPL is being prioritized over the public health," the plea said.

The petitioners requested the high court to put a stay over the conduct of upcoming IPL matches in Delhi. "Although point no 10 of Delhi government notification dated April 19 clearly states that lockdown is exceptional to any Stadium organising national and international level matches with no in attendance spectators, there is an urgent need to prioritise the public health over these matches," they said.

The petitioners added that it is a mockery of the emotions of those common people who are constantly struggling for beds and space for cremating their loved ones.

They said that the government has hurt the sentiments of the citizens by prioritising entertainment over the lives of innocents showcasing a poor play of authority and responsibility.

The petitioner said that the state through its careless acts has shown itself as an insensitive and capitalist figure losing every inch of public confidence over it. The government has very conveniently turned a blind eye on the whole situation showcasing a completely reckless and insensitive approach towards dealing with the pandemic, it added. IPL 2021 was suspended on Tuesday following several positive Covid-19 cases across franchises. In a statement, the IPL said the decision was "unanimously" taken by the tournament's Governing Council and the BCCI.

"The BCCI does not want to compromise on the safety of the players, support staff and the other participants involved in organising the IPL," the statement said. "This decision was taken keeping the safety, health and wellbeing of all the stakeholders in mind."

"These are difficult times, especially in India, and while we have tried to bring in some positivity and cheer, however, it is imperative that the tournament is now suspended and everyone goes back to their families and loved ones in these trying times," it added.

The statement also said the BCCI would do "do everything in its powers to arrange for the secure and safe passage of all the participants in IPL 2021". ANI

CHAMPIONS LEAGUE

Mahrez's brace helps Manchester City defeat PSG to make first-ever final

MANCHESTER: Riyad Mahrez was the star on show as Manchester City managed to progress to the final of the Champions League for the first time in their history after defeating Paris Saint-Germain (PSG) in the second-leg semi-final at the Etihad Stadium.

In the second-leg semi-final, City outclassed PSG 2-0 and as a result, they won the fixture 4-1 on aggregate. In the first-leg semi-final between both these sides, Manchester City had emerged triumphant after defeating PSG 2-1.

The first half got off to an edgy start as both teams looked nervous. In the initial few minutes, PSG threatened to score a goal and in the eighth minute, it seemed that PSG got a penalty as the on-field official gave the verdict, but looking at replays, it was clearly evident that there was no case of handball and hence VAR overruled the decision.

In the 11th minute, Manchester City took the lead as Riyad

Mahrez scored the goal, giving the hosts a 1-0 lead in the second leg, and increasing the overall aggregate to 3-1.

After conceding the goals, PSG went into overdrive and in the 22nd minute, their player Ander Herrera was also given a yellow card after being over-aggressive with the on-field official. Both teams toiled hard, but no more goals were possible in the first half, and as a result, Manchester City held on to its 1-0 lead at halftime. ANI

Times News Service

MUSCAT: BP has launched its first socio-economic review in Oman, highlighting its commitment to the Sultanate as well as its aim to be a leader in the transparency of reporting.
BP Oman president Yousuf Al Ojaili commented, "Oman is a strategically important country for BP and we're extremely proud of our partnership with the Sultanate and the stories portrayed through this review. Whilst BP's role as an energy provider is core to what we do and a key contributor to Oman's economy, our impact is much broader."

Key 2020 highlights

Mohammed Al Rumhy, Minister of Energy and Minerals commented, "Oman's oil and gas industry is a key part of our 2040 Vision to support energy security and the national economy. Block 61 is a core part of that contribution, one of the Middle East's largest and most challenging gas fields.

"We are proud of our partnership with BP in the development of this important resource. As well as benefitting from their global experience, and pioneering technologies and approaches - such as green completions - it's encouraging to see their commitment to Oman's economy and society."
The report includes examples of how BP has supported the development of Omani companies, including local drilling contractor Abraj Energy Service who completed its first well stimulation in Block 61 - the largest stimulation completed by the company - and Sarooj Construction company who improved its worker welfare rights with BP's guidance.
In 2020, BP safely reduced over 148,000 tonnes of CO₂e - 111 per cent higher than planned - thanks to a reduced flaring concept called 'green completions'. BP is the first company in Oman to introduce this pioneering concept.
BP has had a presence in Oman since 2007 and is a major investor in the country alongside partners OQ, PTTEP and Petronas.
In October 2020, BP started production from Block 61's Ghazeer development safely, with capital discipline and significantly ahead of schedule.

CMA issues new rules for initial public offerings

Times News Service

MUSCAT: A decision approving new rules for specifying the price of shares in initial public offerings (IPOs) was issued by Sheikh Abdullah Salim Al Salmi, Executive President of the Capital Market Authority (CMA) on Wednesday.
The move is aimed to regulate the issuance of IPOs by specifying the methods for the determination of the prices of shares in public offerings and the procedures to be followed to ensure a sound pricing process.
On the importance of the rules, Mohammed Said Al Abri, Vice President, Capital Market Sector said the new rules for specifying the offering prices will contribute to enhancing the readiness of the legislative infrastructure of the initial offerings in Oman by providing a clear legal framework for the mechanism of specifying the offering price for the companies desirous of converting from closed to public joint stock companies by furnishing appropriate environment for determining fair offering price objectively and transparently.

The rules allow the issuer to continue in specifying the offer price through the issue manager using the fixed price method applied for years, however, in such case, the CMA will appoint a third party from among the entities licensed to carry out issue management business or the licensed audit firms at the expense of the issuer to conduct an independent evaluation to recommend the appropriate price for the offering and the issuer will be obliged to offer the shares at the recommended price or the price proposed by the issuer manager whichever is less.

The book-building process is the most transparent method for pricing initial public offerings in the regional and global markets as it specifies the fair price for the offering by involving a greater segment of investors to explore and determine the offer price compared to only two parties in the fixed price method which would enhance the efficiency and stability of the market.
The method works on receiving the applications from large subscribers containing their proposals for the quantities and prices within a specific price band and the highest offer price and the quantities will be determined and then small investors will be allowed to subscribe at such a price or lower price if the issuer is desirous to grant a discount.
Al Abri added that there is another method to executing the book building process the issue manager may adopt.

This is by opening subscription for small and large subscribers at the same time and receiving the applications of large subscribers within the specified price band; while small investors submit their applications at the highest limit of the price band and after the end of subscription the offering price will be determined for the whole quantity of shares and this price would be applied for small subscribers or a lesser price if the issuer intends to grant a discount.
If the subscription price for this category is less than the highest limit of the price band the surplus amount will be refunded to their bank accounts.
The rules emphasise that the issuer manager should provide adequate information for the public on the offering and pricing method through book building in the various media to address any ambiguity or concerns of small subscribers specifically when subscribing at the highest limit of the price band.

SHIFT IN SPENDING HABITS

Consumer appetite in Mena region for digital payments seen rising

Times News Service

MUSCAT: As the world went into pandemic lockdown in 2020, consumers shifted their spending habits to embrace contactless tap-and-go payments and online shopping. As stores closed and social distancing took hold, retailers worldwide moved their businesses online, embraced e-commerce and explored the potential of new ways to pay.
More than a year later, research from Mastercard shows that the adoption of new payment technologies is rising, and consumer appetite for new, fast and flexible digital experiences continues to grow.
The Mastercard New Payments Index shows 95 per cent of Middle East and North Africa (Mena) consumers will consider using at least one emerging payment method, such as cryptocurrency, biometrics, contactless, or QR code, in the next year.
Over two-thirds of respondents (65 per cent) agree they have tried a new payment method they would not have tried under normal circumstances, but the pandemic has galvanised people to try flexible new payment options to get what they want when they want it. With this interest and consumer demand also comes a greater expectation for businesses to provide multiple ways to shop and pay. In fact, 61 per cent of Mena consumers say they would avoid businesses that do not accept electronic payments of any kind. Additionally, nearly 3 out of 4 (73 per cent) UAE consumers say that digital payment methods help them save money.
"The pandemic made us think differently, partly out of necessity," said Craig Vosburg, Chief Product Officer at Mastercard. "To deliver the choice and flexibility that consumers need - and increasingly expect - retailers worldwide need to offer a range of payment solutions that are easy to access and always on. As we look ahead, we need to continue to enable all choices, both in-store and online, to shape the fabric of commerce and make the digital economy work for everyone."
Contactless technology was the digital catalyst to explore new payment options because of its fast, secure, and touch-free experience. Between the first quarter of 2020 and the same period in 2021, more than 100 markets saw contactless as a share of total in-person transactions grow by at least 50 per cent. A year into the COVID-19 pandemic, contactless is showing its staying power and dynamism - in the first quarter of 2021 alone, Mastercard saw 1 billion more contactless transactions worldwide as compared to the same period of 2020. All signs point to a continued growth path for contactless, with nearly 7 in 10 consumers globally anticipating using a contactless card this year.

Looking to the future, digital currencies and wallets, wearables, biometrics, contactless and QR codes are trending as emerging payments technologies as people's comfort with them and understanding of them increases and the use of cash decreases. 88 per cent of consumers in the region have more ways to pay compared to this time last year. The exploding interest in new payment technologies may encourage businesses to expand their options at the checkout.
The Mastercard New Payment Index found
Cryptocurrency gains ground - Today consumers can buy, sell, and trade cryptocurrency as a commodity or investment. Consumers are also increasingly showing interest in being able to spend crypto assets for everyday purchases.
Biometric payments are more trustworthy - Perceptions of safety and convenience have been front and centre for people over the past year.
QR codes are cleaner and more convenient - Growing markets are leveraging QR-based options as a clean and convenient way to interact with merchants.
Digital wallets surge in popularity - As digital wallet services continue to proliferate in the region, the technology has seen a surge in popularity. 66 per cent of consumers in Mena say that they would use digital wallets next year while 67 per cent say they plan to use digital money transfer services.

Small and medium sized enterprises see stable recovery

BEIJING: The vitality of China's small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) improved in the first quarter of the year as the economy further recovered from the impact of COVID-19, per the latest industry data. - Xinhua

IATA

Air cargo demand rises 4.4% compared to pre-COVID levels

GENEVA: Global air cargo demand continued to outperform pre-COVID levels in March with demand up 4.4 per cent reaching the highest level recorded since the series began in 1990, International Air Transport Association (IATA) has said.

Month-on-month demand also increased albeit at a slower pace than the previous month with volumes up 0.4 per cent in March over February 2021 levels.

Global demand was a slower rate of growth than the previous month which saw it increasing 9.2 per cent compared to February 2019. A weaker performance by the Asia Pacific and African carriers compared to February contributed to softer growth in March.

Global capacity measured in available cargo tonne kilometres continued to recover in March, up 5.6 per cent compared to the previous month. Despite this, capacity remains 11.7 per cent below pre-COVID-19 levels (March 2019) due to the ongoing grounding of passenger aircraft.

Airlines continue to use dedicated freighters to plug the lack of available belly capacity. International capacity from dedicated freighters rose 20.6 per cent in March compared to the same month in 2019 and belly-cargo capacity of passenger aircraft dropped by 38.4 per cent.

New export orders

IATA said underlying economic conditions remain supportive for air cargo. This is evidenced in the new export orders component of the manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) which stood at

All-new 2021 Ram 1500 TRX: Most powerful truck arrives in Sultanate

The RAM TRX is known as the apex predator of the truck world and cements RAM truck as an off-road truck leader

MUSCAT: Dhofar Automotive (DA), the official distributor for Chrysler, Jeep, Dodge, Fiat, RAM, and Alfa Romeo vehicles, Mopar brands and the official provider of spare parts and after-sales services for Fiat Chrysler Automobiles in the Sultanate, announced the arrival of the first all-new 2021 RAM 1500 TRX to Dhofar Automotive showrooms in the Sultanate.

The RAM TRX is known as the apex predator of the truck world and cements RAM truck as an off-road truck leader. RAM TRX expands the light-duty lineup and sets new benchmarks for power and performance among half-ton pickup trucks with the 6.2-litre supercharged HEMI® V-8 engine.

Commenting on the arrival of the vehicle, Biju Luckose, Marketing Manager at Dhofar Automotive said, “We are happy to welcome the first model of the all-new 2021 RAM 1500 TRX to Dhofar Automotive showrooms. The new vehicle sets the benchmark for extreme performance pickup trucks, with advanced equipment. RAM has a strong history of high-performance trucks and the TRX complements that legacy, while also expanding the light-duty lineup with the segment’s best combination of performance, capability, luxury and technology.”

Rated at 702 horsepower and 650 lb.-ft. of torque, the 6.2-litre supercharged HEMI V-8 engine powers the RAM TRX to a top speed of 190 mph. Combined with a high-torque-capacity TorqueFlite eight-speed automatic transmission, the Ram TRX delivers a new level of performance: 0-96.6 miles per hour (mph) in 4.5 seconds.

The 2021 Ram TRX benefits from up to 32 inches of water fording, up to 8,100 pounds towing and a maximum payload capacity of 1,310 pounds.

The all-new 2021 RAM TRX features an aggressive stance and an impossibly wide, muscular body wrapped over the top of it. The Ram TRX makes an impactful visual statement with an acute “hour-glass” body design that features composite flares and fender wells that have been stretched to cover aggressive 35-inch Good-year tyres.

The 2021 Ram TRX combines all-new features, technology and authentic premium materials with extreme performance, class-leading quality, comfort and durability. The interior design team chose premium textures, colours and material, including available hand-wrapped leather instrument panels for unexpected luxury throughout.

Interior options

The all-new 2021 RAM 1500 TRX includes three interior options, and it includes new front seats with enhanced upper bolster support and embroidered logos. The car is equipped Modular Light-weight Load-bearing Equipment/ Pouch Attachment Ladder System on the seatback that enables bags and other equipment to be weaved in place.

Designed to be the most technologically advanced pickup ever, the new 2021 Ram TRX is loaded with an array of innovative and features combined with the award-winning fourth-generation Uconnect system that offers convenience and connected services, keeping Ram truck customers engaged and informed all while keeping their hands on the wheel and eyes on the road or desert path ahead.

Safety and security were primary drivers in the development of the new 2021 Ram TRX, which offers more than 100 available active and passive safety and security features. Standard features include ParkView rear backup camera with dynamic gridlines, electronic stability control (ESC) with electronic roll mitigation and six standard airbags. Available features include Blind-spot Monitoring, adaptive cruise control, Ready Alert Braking and Full-Speed Forward Collision Warning-Plus.

Mopar will offer more than 100 factory-engineered, quality-tested performance parts and accessories for the all-new 2021 Ram TRX and more than 600 across the entire 2021 Ram Truck brand lineup.

The 2021 Ram TRX is built at the Sterling Heights Assembly Plant (SHAP) in Sterling Heights, Michigan.

“I invite all RAM brand enthusiasts to visit Dhofar Automotive showrooms and learn about the new models on display. I encourage them to take advantage of the wonderful offers available now on RAM vehicles that are class-leaders in the truck segment, boasting great capabilities and strong performance,” Biju added.

Each of the 2020 models is VAT inclusive and VAT absorbed by Dhofar Automotive. Avail the offer while stocks last. In the Sultanate RAM models are available at Dhofar Automotive showrooms with different equipment classes.
