The ministry also seeks to promote a business environment that supports a knowledge-based economy and create an attractive investment setup by providing the necessary facilities and upgrading existing services.

The event will be attended by Qais bin Mohammed Al Yousef, Minister of Commerce, Industry and Investment Promotion, Dr Saleh bin Saeed Masan, Undersecretary for Commerce and Industry at MOCIIP and Aseelah bint Salem Al Samsamiyah, Undersecretary for Investment Promotion.

< FROM A1 Efforts underway to repatriate bodies of Ibri rockslide

"We have our social workers in Ibri and they were deployed to the accident site the moment we got to know about the incident. Our officials are fully cooperating with the government organisations and company representatives to provide assistance."

Ambassador Chaudhary added that the Oman authorities left no stone unturned when they learned about this incident.

They had deployed heavy machinery, sophisticated cameras and sniffer dogs for the search and rescue operations, as well as expert geologists who provided technical support to the operations.

Recalling the incident, Al Kalbani said he rushed to the scene after he was informed about the rockslide. On arrival, he saw a lot of rubble and thick clouds of dust and approached one of the workers to ask if anyone at the site had been injured.

"He told me: 'Yes, we have many who are injured and missing.' I rushed towards the accident site to get a closer look for myself and to see if I could help them," recalled Al Kalbani. "The view was very poor, however, because the rubble and large rocks made it very difficult to get to those who were trapped underneath."

After making sure the injured were ferried to hospital, a distress call was made to the CDAA. Company officials stayed with emergency personnel throughout the rescue operation, and put at their disposal all of the heavy machinery and tools the company had, should rescue teams need them to extract the workers from under the rock.

Rescue teams

Although rescue teams had reached the site, it was quite clear that the rockslide hadn't fully ended: Rocks continued to slide for a while afterwards, hampering rescue and extraction efforts. Because of the size and extent of the collapse, CDAA teams had set up a forward operations centre at the site to better handle and coordinate their response.

We stayed at the site of the accident from the first hours of the collapse, until the last body was pulled out from under the rubble," revealed Al Kalbani. "We didn't go too far away from the site, because we never stopped searching for survivors under the rubble, and this required continuous efforts from all of us.

"Because there were subsequent rockslides at regular intervals, we could not work any faster to search for survivors," he admitted.

"The rocks were also very big and hard, so to break them down and transport them was very difficult. Time was running out, and with each passing minute, little by little, the hope of finding survivors was fading. The work continued with no break, and whenever we removed one of the missing people who was found dead, I felt a great sadness for them."

Six of the people who sadly died in the accident were found dead on arrival, while Civil Defence and Ambulance Authority (CDAA) services needed to extract another eight people from the rubble, and were pronounced dead once they had been rescued.

A further five were sent to hospital to recover from their injuries.

Despite the occurrence of the accident, Al Kalbani said that the company posts safety and security officers at all of their sites.

Furthermore, International Marble Company operates in accordance with preset security and safety standards, and is certified under ISO certificates for both quality and the environment. It is also affiliated with the American Institute of Marble, considered one of the largest international institutes in the world for marble companies.

"We accordingly work according to very high safety and security standards," added Al Kalbani.

It took Civil Defence and Ambulance Authority personnel seven days to extract all of the victims trapped under the rubble, using plenty of search and rescue teams, as well as sniffer dogs and advanced equipment such as thermal imaging to locate the bodies.

EXPAT LIFE

Expat who helped set up some of Oman’s best restaurants heads home after 45 years

Times News Service

MUSCAT: An Indian expatriate who spearheaded efforts to set up some of Oman’s most well-known restaurants is heading back home with a lifetime of memories, after 45 years in this country.

Yogesh Shah, who recently retired as the head of the Khimji Ramdas restaurants division, was integral to bringing brands such as Taco Bell, Fuddrucker’s, Café Vergnano and Laderach to Oman. The biggest impact of his legacy, however, is the arrival of Pizza Hut into the country.

Initially headhunted by Khimji’s to open two outlets in Oman – one in Muscat and the other in Salalah – Pizza Hut currently has 45 restaurants across the country since its arrival in 1988. Yogesh was also integral to the opening of The Indus, a well-known upscale restaurant at the Galleria attached to the Royal Opera House Muscat.

“I was presented with the right opportunity to explore the F&B industry in Oman,” recalled Yogesh. “I relied on my instincts at that time and decided to take the plunge and God has been kind that I got to live here for 45 long years!”

“I first arrived in Muscat in 1980 when Oman was undergoing major developments,” he added. “Muscat back in the day was quite different. There were very few roads with only a few pockets of residential areas and no malls or supermarkets. For entertainment, there was just one theatre.”

“I remember very often standing in the heat at the public phone, having to shell out so many coins to make a single call that would last for a few minutes,” he said. “I would post handwritten letters to my family, which would reach Mumbai only after a month, and by the time they received them and replied, it would take another month for their responses to come here. Life then was very different. Of course, with time, technology grew and life evolved.”

ADIEU: Yogesh Shah, who recently retired as the head of the Khimji Ramdas restaurants division, was integral to bringing well known brands to Oman.

Mumbai to Muscat

Yogesh first heard of Muscat when a Lebanese gentleman visited the Oberoi Sheraton in Mumbai in 1979, where he was employed at the time. While interacting with Yogesh, he mentioned to him that he was looking to set up a five-star hotel in Muscat and was looking for someone with a good hospitality background. It was destiny that brought Yogesh to Oman as one of the seven people recruited to work at Gulf Hotel, which is today known as Crowne Plaza Muscat.

Even so, when his first stint in Oman ended in 1985, he thought he was done with the country, knowing little that he would be brought back just three years later, with his family in tow.

“If there’s one thing that best describes Oman and its people, it is their kindness and their humble attitude towards everyone,” he explained. “I have had the pleasure to work alongside many Omanis for many years and their kindness and generosity inspire us daily. Not once have we ever felt like this place is not our home, and we have always felt so welcome. It is as if we are part of their family. Oman is such a peace-loving society and its willingness to learn and grow is very inspiring.”

Peace-loving country

It is this friendly attitude in the country – along with many other desirable traits – that made Oman a country where Yogesh wanted to raise his family and give them a good life.

“When it comes to world rankings, Oman often ranks at the top as one as the most peaceful, cleanest and safest countries to live in,” he added. “Oman is truly the best example of a multi-cultural society where people from different countries live together in harmony.”

“The roads and the infrastructure and the lifestyle here are unparalleled. And of course, for nature lovers, this place is truly a paradise. There’s so much to explore within Oman that no amount of time spent here will ever be enough!”

FASTING HEALTH TIPS

Avoid excessive salt in your food, especially during Suhoor. Sodium makes you thirsty and it will become very difficult to control the urge to drink water. Also avoid spicy and extremely sweet food for the same reason. The most difficult part about fasting is to control the water temptation so do everything you can to minimise it.

EU chief Ursula von der Leyen offers Kyiv fast track to membership

Von der Leyen travelled to Ukraine with her deputy Josep Borrell, who is also the bloc's commissioner for foreign and security affairs

KYIV: European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen in Kyiv on Friday presented Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy with paperwork for his country to join the European Union.

Handing over a document at a joint press conference, she said: "This is where your path towards the European Union begins."

"We stand ready to support you in filling out this questionnaire," von der Leyen said, adding: "It will not be, as usual, a matter of years, but rather a matter of weeks" to complete this step.

The questionnaire, she explained, forms the basis of an opinion that gets passed on to the European Council.

Von der Leyen said she intended to, "present Ukraine's application to the [European] Council this summer."

During the joint press conference von der Leyen said: "Russia will descend in economic, financial and technological decay while Ukraine is marching towards a European future."

Von der Leyen in Bucha: 'Humanity was shattered'

Von der Leyen traveled to Ukraine with her deputy Josep Borrell, who is also the bloc's commissioner for foreign and security affairs. During the trip, the first by high-ranking EU officials since Russia invaded Ukraine on February 24, von der Leyen traveled to the city of Bucha. Because in Bucha our humanity was shattered."

On Twitter, she wrote, "It was important to start my visit in Bucha. Because in Bucha our humanity was shattered."

Among the delegation visiting Kyiv is Slovak Prime Minister Eduard Heger, who announced that his country was donating its Soviet-era S-300 air defense system to Ukraine.

EU's envoy to Ukraine returns

Borrell announced in Kyiv that the European Union was returning its delegation to the Ukrainian capital. The head of the EU delegation to Ukraine, Matti Maasilta, was accompanying Borrell and von der Leyen.

The EU representation was completely evacuated one day after the start of the war.

The envoy's return will help ensure that the European Union and the Ukrainian government can work together closely and directly, Borrell said.

"Ukraine is not a country invaded, dominated. There is still a government [which] receives people from outside, and you can travel to Kyiv," Borrell said.

EU to outline its measures to 'isolate Russia'

Borrell said one topic on the agenda of talks with Zelenskyy was possible further sanctions to "isolate Russia."

It comes as a new sanctions package, including an EU embargo on Russian coal imports, is set to be formally implemented on Friday after the bloc approved the measures.

Borrell also said the EU would supply €7.5 million ($8.2 million) to train Ukrainian prosecutors to investigate war crimes, which Russia is accused of committing in the country. bw

OSCAR BAN

Will Smith gets 10-year Oscars ban for slapping Chris Rock

CALIFORNIA: Hollywood star Will Smith will not be allowed to attend the Oscars for a decade, the Academy's board announced.

The latest announcement comes weeks after Smith struck comedian Chris Rock across the face on stage. Rock had made a joke about the appearance of the actor's wife.

What did the Academy say?

The decision to temporarily ban Smith from further events came after a meeting of the Academy's board of governors.

"The 94th Oscars were meant to be a celebration of the many individuals in our community who did incredible work this past year; however, those moments were overshadowed by the unacceptable and harmful behavior we saw Mr. Smith exhibit on stage," the academy said in a statement.

The 10-year ban extends to the Academy Awards, known as the Oscars, as well as any other academy event.

The academy also apologized for its handling of the incident, after Smith was allowed to stay at the ceremony after the slap.

Smith later received the "Best Actor" award for his role in "King Richard."

The academy said it "did not adequately address the situation in the room" but said they were "unprepared for the unprecedented."

How has Smith responded?

Smith resigned as a member of the academy last week in the run-up to Friday's meeting.

He released a short statement after Friday's announcement, saying: "I accept and respect the Academy's decision."

During the Oscars on March 27, Smith strode from his front-row seat onto the stage and slapped Chris Rock across the face for making a joke at the expense of Smith's wife, Jada Pinkett Smith. Rock — who was appearing as a presenter — joked about Jada Pinkett Smith's shaved head. bw

UN seeks $80 million to prevent 'imminent' Yemen oil spillage

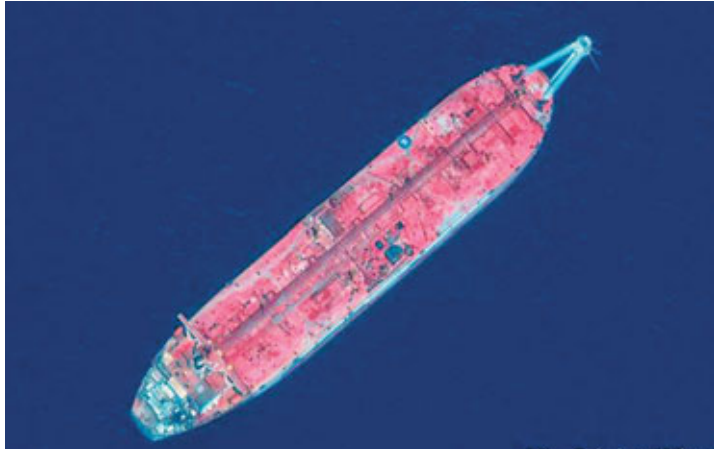

SANAA: The United Nations is seeking nearly $80 million from donor nations for an emergency operation to remove a million barrels of crude oil from a tanker anchored off the coast of war-ravaged Yemen and avert a catastrophic oil spill in the Red Sea.

FSO Safer is a 45-year-old vessel that was sold to Yemen in the 1980s and has been used as a floating oil storage platform. It has 1.1 million barrels of crude oil on board.

Since 2015 the tanker has been moored off the Yemeni port city of Hodeida — held by Houthi rebels — without being serviced.

UN warns of ecological 'time bomb'

David Gressly, the UN resident and humanitarian coordinator for Yemen, said on Friday that the tanker is "a time bomb" because a major oil spill "would unleash a massive ecological and humanitarian catastrophe centered on a country already decimated by more than seven years of war."

"Without funding over the next six weeks or so the project will not begin on time, and this time bomb will continue to tick," he added.

There are fears that the tanker could explode or leak causing a major environmental disaster in the Red Sea and beyond.

Following years of talks, the United Nations and Yemen's Houthi rebels signed off on a memorandum of understanding in March this year, authorizing a four-month emergency operation to tackle the immediate risk which involves transferring oil on the Safer tanker to another vessel.

The MOU, in the long term, urges replacing the tanker with another vessel within 18 months. bw

TAX EVASION

British finance minister's wife Akshata Murthy rejects charges of tax evasion

LONDON: After reports of her non-domicile status and alleged tax evasion, Akshata Murthy, the wife of British finance minister Rishi Sunak, claimed that she has been paying all taxes.

Her spokesperson said that Akshata Murthy "has always and will continue to pay UK taxes on all her UK income". The clarification came amid reports that Akshata Murthy holds a non-domicile status and has evaded paying taxes on her UK income as recently as April 2020, when her husband was already Chancellor of the Exchequer, reported SKY News.

Indian-born Murthy is the daughter of Narayana Murthy, the billionaire co-founder of tech giant Infosys and has a 0.9 per cent stake in the company worth hundreds of millions of pounds according to its latest annual report.

Her spokeswoman said: "Akshata Murthy is a citizen of India, the country of her birth and parent's home". She also stated that India does not allow its citizens to hold the citizenship of another country simultaneously.

"So, according to British law, Ms Murthy is treated as non-domiciled for UK tax purposes. She has always and will continue to pay UK taxes on all her UK income," clarified the spokeswoman.

The revelations have also taken a political turn as the UK opposition party is asking the Chancellor to clear the air amid intensified allegations against his wife.

The opposition Labour Party in the UK asked Sunak to explain the allegation of tax evasion. Labour's shadow economic secretary to the Treasury, Tulip Siddiq, said, "Rishi Sunak must now urgently explain how much he and his family have saved on their own tax bill while he at the same time was adding on to tax burdens of millions of working families, reported the news channel.

The Liberal Democrats added that the Chancellor "needs to come clean about which country his family pays tax in abroad and if it is a tax haven".

According to a poll, the Chancellor's popularity had plunged taking his popularity below that of Sir Keir (Labour Party Leader) for the first time. ANI

Boris Becker found guilty of four charges after bankruptcy trial

LONDON: Retired German tennis star and three times Wimbledon champion Boris Becker was found guilty of four charges under the Insolvency Act related to his 2017 bankruptcy on Friday.

The 54-year-old German was accused of hiding millions of pounds worth of property, including two Wimbledon trophies, to avoid paying his debts. A London court found him guilty of removal of the property, two charges of failing to disclose property and hiding debt.

He was acquitted on a further 20 counts. According to Sky Sports, the six-time grand slam winner was declared bankrupt in 2017, over an unpaid loan of more than £3 million on his property in Mallorca, Spain. He also allegedly failed to disclose two German properties, as well as his flat in London.

The former world number one, who was acquitted of 20 counts, was bailed ahead of sentencing at the Southwark Crown Court on April 29.

Becker was 17-year-old when he stunned the tennis world by claiming his first Wimbledon title in 1985 to become the youngest men's singles champion. The golden period of his career saw him claim the French Open in 1987, 1989 and 1991, the US Open in 1989 and the Australian Open in 1991. Becker won his last Grand Slam crown in Melbourne in 1996 before retiring on June 25, 1999. ANI

'HAND OF GOD' SHIRT

Maradona's daughter claims his 'Hand of God' shirt, up for auction, is 'not the one'

BUENOS AIRES: Football legend Diego Maradona's daughter claimed that her father's 'Hand of God' shirt, which is up for auction, is not the one that the Argentine wore during his infamous goal against England at the 1986 World Cup. The jersey which is up for auction was reportedly worn by the iconic No 10 when he scored his infamous "Hand of God" goal against England at the 1986 FIFA World Cup. England's Steve Hodge became the lucky player who swapped the jersey with the Argentinean great, after the match.

The shirt has now been put up for auction by the former Nottingham Forest, Tottenham and Aston Villa midfielder Hodge and is expected to fetch £4 million (USD5m).

But now, Maradona's family have suggested that the shirt worn by the legendary figure during the second half of an iconic fixture in Mexico is actually in the possession of somebody else.

"It's not the shirt my father wore in the second half. I'm sure Hodge doesn't have it, and I know who does. I don't want to say who has it, because that's crazy," Goal.com quoted Diego Maradona's daughter, Dalma as saying.

"It's our word against that ex-players. I don't think he needs the money either unless he auctions it off for a good cause. It would be good if the Argentine Football Association bought it," said Maradona's ex-wife, Claudia Villafane.

Meanwhile, Hodge has said of auctioning the shirt off: "I have been the proud owner of this item for over 35 years since Diego and I swapped shirts in the tunnel after the famed match. It was an absolute privilege to have played against one of the greatest and most magnificent football players of all time."

Diego Maradona passed away on November 25, 2020. He was 60 when he breathed his last. ANI

OCT Ruwi, OCT Al Amerat emerge victorious

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Turf 1 of the Oman Cricket Academy played host to a thrilling encounter between OCT Al Hail 'A' and OCT Al Amerat in the All-Omani Tournament on April 8, 2022.

Electing to bat first in their first game of the competition, OCT Al Hail 'A' were bowled out for 112 in 19.2 overs. Opener Faris Said Al Zadjali top-scored for his side with a 22-ball 25. Waleed Rahim Al Balushi, Nadhir Ghulam and Abdul Ghani Al Balushi were the others with notable contributions.

Anaya Allah and Khalid Moosa Al Balushi were OCT Al Amerat's top performers with the ball and combined to pick up 7 wickets. Sulaiman Haider Al Balushi and Nasser Haider Al Balushi claimed the remaining ones.

In response, OCT Al Amerat lost both their openers early, but Ateel Yousuf Al Balushi and Sulaiman Haider Al Balushi steadied the innings with a 32-run partnership. Their dismissals in back-to-back deliveries of the 10th over very nearly proved terminal to their side's hopes of progressing in the tournament.

However, Rafeeq Mohammed Siyad Al Balushi and Said Haider Al Balushi played mature knocks to keep the contest alive. Their scoring rate was slow, but the pair hung in the middle at a time when any further wickets would have served to derail the run chase completely.

With 9 runs needed off the final over, the first five balls produced 6 but Said Haider turned match-winner in the final delivery, depositing it in the stands to hand OCT Al Amerat a 5-wicket victory. Rafeeq and Said finished on individual scores of 32 and 22 respectively.

Waleed Rahim Al Balushi was the only bowler for OCT Al Hail 'A' with more than 1 scalp to his name.

On the other ground, OCT Ruwi clinched a much more comfortable victory against OCT Al Mabela. They came out on top by a 71-run margin.

Electing to bat first, OCT Ruwi posted a first innings total of 188/2 - the highest in the tournament till date. That score was powered by the highest individual tally of the tournament - Mohammed Al Balushi's unbeaten 67-ball 91.

Alongside Shuaib Ismail Al Balushi, who made 56 runs himself in the match-defining 115-run partnership, Mohammed took the game away from OCT Al Mabela in brutal fashion.

Nabeel Mohd Boota and Asif Al Balushi accounted for the two wickets that fell over the course of the first innings.

In response, OCT Al Mabela folded for 117 with 2 balls to spare. Opener Zafarullah Al Balushi led the scoring with 34 runs, with Abdullah Al Balushi, Shareef Al Balushi and Asif Al Balushi chipping in with scores of 19, 12 and 12 respectively.

OCT Ruwi were dominant with the ball too, and their star in the second phase of play was undoubtedly Zubair Ali Akabr Al Balushi. He picked up 5 wickets in his 3.4 overs to go with a 23-run first innings cameo. Khalid Pir Baksh Al Balushi, Shuaib Ismail Al Balushi, Wasim Ismail Mohamed Al Balushi and Imran Al Balushi claimed the remaining ones.

Highlighting the far-reaching financial and societal benefits of integrating sustainable finance into business, Bank Nizwa recently signed its first sustainable finance agreement with Shanfari Special Projects.

The Pen-G fermentation plant will be the first of its kind in the region and has been initially designed to have two blocks for the manufacture of Penicillin-G and 6-APA respectively

MUSCAT: Mohsin Haider Darwish (MHD), one of the largest and pioneering business houses in Oman, has signed an agreement with Ali Moosa Al Bulushi, National Bank of Oman (NBO), and Sohar Freezone for the establishment of a first-of-its-kind pharmaceutical manufacturing facility in the Middle East and North Africa (Mena) region – Penicillin General Integrated Industrial Company (Pen-G).

Under the agreement, Pen-G will be jointly owned by MHD and Ali Moosa Al Bulushi and will establish a state-of-the-art fermentation plant for the manufacture of key pharmaceutical start-up material at the Sohar Freezone. NBO will be participating as the primary bank through which the project is being financed.

SIGNING CEREMONY: Ali Moosa Al Bulushi, Mohammed Abdullah Al Kharusi - Chief Executive Officer, MHD; Abdullah Zahran Al Hinal, Chief Executive Officer, National Bank of Oman; and Omar bin Mahmood Al Mahrizi, Chief Executive Officer of Sohar Freezone and Deputy Chief Executive Officer of Sohar Port were present at the signing ceremony. Other members of the executive and senior management of each of the four companies also attended the ceremony. - Supplied picture

Chief Executive Officer, National Bank of Oman; and Omar bin Mahmood Al Mahrizi, Chief Executive Officer of Sohar Freezone and Deputy Chief Executive Officer of Sohar Port.

Also in attendance at the event were other members of the executive and senior management of each of the four companies.

Commenting on the project, Mohammed Al Kharusi said, "As of 2020, the global pharmaceutical industry generated revenues of $1.27 trillion, representing significant growth over the past two decades. Our objective with Pen-G is twofold. First, we would like to officially put Oman on the world map for raw materials for start-up medicine and enter this lucrative industry, and second, we would like to further our goal of establishing ourselves as a key contributor to Oman Vision 2040 and, by extension, to the government's national diversification efforts. Furthermore, our location at the Sohar Freezone, right next to the largest industrial port in the country, provides us with ready access to global trade routes between Asia and Europe for both acquisition of raw materials as well as export of our product.”

The Pen-G fermentation plant will be the first of its kind in the region and has been initially designed to have two blocks for the manufacture of Penicillin-G and 6-APA (Amino Penicillanic Acid) respectively. These are key start-up materials for the most widely used group of antibiotics, penicillin, and cephalosporins.

There are also plans to eventually add a further block for the manufacture of key start-up materials for Erythromycin. Furthermore, the plant has been designed from the ground up to comply wholly with Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) regulations, ensuring all products manufactured are to global standards.

The project was the brainchild of Ali Moosa Al Bulushi, a proven, dynamic, multi-disciplined project director and program manager. He has been a banker for close to two decades before he plunged into the pharmaceutical business, implementing, and providing complete project life-cycle management services for various pharma projects in India and Oman. Commenting on the Pen-G project, he said, "This project is a core part of my constantly evolving dream to build value in Oman in the Pharma sector. Penicillin G represents value addition at the raw material stage of antibiotic medicine manufacturing – an area currently dominated by China. Once completely operational, this plant will cater to the demand for Penicillin GK raw material amounting to nearly 10% of the world's consumption."

Omar bin Mahmood Al Mahrizi said, "The growth of the Sohara pharma cluster is an important step forward in the development of the Port and Freezone with far-reaching benefits to the local community, both in terms of investment and access to the finished product. This pharma project, the second project after our animal vaccination facility, will add significant value to all three of our objectives. We are confident that the plant operated by Penicillin General Integrated Industrial Company will provide the impetus for further investment in the pharmaceutical industry and the potential for Sohara to become the main hub for the industry in the region."

Abdullah Zahran Al Hinai said, "The pharmaceutical industry has endless potential to transform Oman's national economy and we welcome the first major project at Sohar. It is a proud moment for the bank to be able to support the development of a new high-growth sector and enable Penicillin General Integrated Industrial Company to move forwards with its pioneering plans. NBO is a firm believer in the power of technology and innovation, and a regular investor in projects which leave a lasting legacy and more importantly impact on the country, its economy, and its people."

“With MHD – one of the foremost business houses in Oman, Sohar Freezone – the largest and most prominent free zone in the country, and NBO – a market-leading bank, I could not ask for better, more experienced partners to bring this dream to life.

"My sincere thanks to each of them and I look forward to a long and fruitful partnership for the foreseeable future," concluded Ali Moosa Al Bulushi.

Bank Nizwa signs first sustainable finance agreement with SSP

Bank Nizwa’s sustainable finance agreement will play an instrumental role in supporting Shanfari Special Projects (SSP) to source its requirements from Rapiscan, the chosen vendor for the solar-powered integrated inspection facility project

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Highlighting the far-reaching financial and societal benefits of integrating sustainable finance into business, Bank Nizwa recently signed its first sustainable finance agreement with Shanfari Special Projects (SSP).

With Hutchison Ports Sohar commencing construction work to develop its new solar-powered integrated inspection facility, SSP was trusted with the responsibility of installing the scanning equipment for the project.

Bank Nizwa’s sustainable finance agreement will play an instrumental role in supporting SSP to source its requirements from Rapiscan, the chosen vendor for the project.

The agreement was signed by Khalid Al Kayed, CEO of Bank Nizwa and Sheikh Nizar Al Shanfari, Chairman of SSP in presence of R. Narasimhan, General Manager Wholesale at Bank Nizwa and Khalid Al Barwani, Deputy General Manager Wholesale Banking among other senior officials.

An integral component of the project is the installation of a solar energy system on the new infrastructure, the existing buildings, and the car parking areas. This will be done to supplement the power requirements and will result in the reduction of approximately 5,000 tonnes of CO2 emissions per year. This is a significant step towards achieving the sustainable development goals of the country.

“As a sister company of the Shanfari Group of Companies, SSP has been a significant contributor to the nation’s goals and mirrors values that are quite similar to ours. We are indeed delighted to join hands with such a reputable company to promote the logistics sector through sustainable financing solutions. The project’s green concept of supplementing its energy requirements through renewable, clean sources of energy is in line with Oman Vision 2040. As such, Bank Nizwa is deeply invested in its success,” said Khaled Al Kayed, CEO of Bank Nizwa. “With COLLABORATION: The agreement was signed by Khalid Al Kayed, CEO of Bank Nizwa and Sheikh Nizar Al Shanfari, Chairman of SSP in presence of R. the country’s renewed commitment to achieving net-zero emissions and the continuous endeavours to foster a green and circular economy, sustainable financing is gaining increasing traction in the market. As a Sharia-compliant bank that places immense importance on inclusivity, ethicality, and transparency, Bank Nizwa has remained ahead of the curve to spearhead sustainable finance initiatives in the country.”

Embracing the latest advancements in innovation and container scanning capabilities, the modern inspection facility, valued at $30 million, will be a part of the terminal development plans to enhance the inspection services for inbound and outbound containers and provide transformational clearing processes. The project will facilitate the quicker clearance of both normal and refrigerated containers and aid in the express movement of goods. This will also boost Oman’s ranking in the Logistics Performance Index while contributing to the ongoing development of the national economy.

Sharing his comments, Sheikh Nizar Al Shanfari, said, “At SSP, we endeavour to be able to offer exceptional service, dependability and quality to our customers around the world. Our projects exemplify this commitment and we continue to move forward with conviction to deliver modern-day solutions that support the environmental, and sustainability goals of the Sultanate. We are thankful to Bank Nizwa for supporting us in this journey as we aim to emerge as one of Oman’s largest industrial and services conglomerates, and a valuable contributor to the development of the nation’s infrastructure.”

The scanning systems supplied by SSP are ideally suited to help customers fight trade fraud and drug smuggling and to combat terrorism. High-quality X-ray imaging creates detailed images of dense and cluttered cargo to increase the efficiency of scanning operations. The screening system is high penetration and high wire resolution resulting in clear images that provide deep insight into the contents of cargo containers. The scanners are a high-energy X-ray, drive-through portal cargo inspection system for fast, accurate and efficient cargo screening.

Its ability to rapidly scan trucks supports inspection at critical facilities, seaports and border crossings. The X-ray beam is automatically activated after the truck cab passes through the portal so that the occupants are not exposed to an unsafe dose of radiation.

Bank Nizwa’s involvement in this project is a testament to its commitment to achieving the goals outlined in the Sultanate of Oman’s Logistics Strategy (SOLS) 2040. It also cements its position as a leading Islamic bank that contributes to the local sustainability ecosystem. Through partnerships like these, the bank will continue to extend its support to key national projects and aid in the socio-economic development of the country.

INTERNATIONAL AIR TRANSPORT ASSOCIATION

Recovery in air travel is gathering steam: IATA

GENEVA: The International Air Transport Association (IATA) announced that air travel posted a strong rebound in February 2022 compared to January 2022, as Omicron-related impacts moderated outside of Asia.

Total traffic in February 2022 (measured in revenue passenger kilometres or RPKs) was up 115.9 per cent compared to February 2021. That is an improvement from January 2022, which was up 83.1 per cent compared to January 2021. Compared to February 2019, however, traffic was down 45.5 per cent.

February 2022 domestic traffic was up 60.7 per cent compared to the year-ago period, building on a 42.6 per cent increase in January 2022 compared to January 2021. There was wide variation in markets tracked by IATA. Domestic traffic in February was 21.8 per cent below the volumes of February 2019.

Middle Eastern airlines’ traffic rose 215.3 per cent in February compared to February 2021, well up compared to the 145.0 per cent increase in January 2022, versus the same month in 2021. February capacity rose 89.5 per cent versus the year-ago period, and load factor climbed 25.8 percentage points to 64.7 per cent.

International RPKs rose 256.8 per cent versus February 2021, improving from a 165.5 per cent year-over-year increase in January 2022 versus the year-earlier period. All regions improved their performance compared to the prior month. February 2022 international RPKs were down 59.6 per cent compared to the same month in 2019.

“The recovery in air travel is gathering steam as governments in many parts of the world lift travel restrictions. States that persist in attempting to lock out the disease, rather than managing it, as we do with other diseases, risk missing out on the enormous economic and societal benefits that restoration of international connectivity will bring,” said Willie Walsh, IATA’s Director-General.

“As the long-awaited recovery in air travel accelerates, it is important that our infrastructure providers are prepared for a huge increase in passenger numbers in the coming months. The peak Northern summer travel season will be critical for jobs throughout the travel and tourism value chain. Now is the time to prepare. Governments can help by ensuring that border positions are staffed adequately and that background security checks for new staff are managed as efficiently as possible,” said Walsh. -WAM

Speaking on the sidelines of the launch of the store, Ibrahim

Mohammed Nasar Al Rawahi, the Chairman of Shahi Foods and Spices mentioned, “We’re incredibly proud that the quality of our products and trust in our brand has culminated in the opening of our flagship mart ‘Mashhoor’ in Sohar. Alongside fresh produce and everyday grocery items, it is the store’s custom grinding and roasting facilities that are going to provide an elevated experience to those residing and working in the Sohar vicinity. A boon to have in any neighbourhood, ‘Mashhoor’s’ focus is and will continue to be to maintain a wholesome reputation like our leading food and spice brand Shahi.”

Mohammed Ashraf Mulamparambil, the managing director of Shahi Foods and Spices elucidated: “In continuing the legacy of our brand Shahi, ‘Mashhoor’ aims to expand further in the coming years, bringing those residing and working in the Sohar community and adjoining areas the goodness of fresh grocery essentials conveniently via the store. One of ‘Mashhoor’s’ biggest unique selling propositions is our brand Shahi itself. Every product goes through rigorous quality control in our state of the art in-house laboratory. Shahi is the only company in this sector that has a fully-equipped quality control facility. I oversee procurement to ensure that every product that enters our factory is brought from the best sources. When one opens any Shahi product, one finds a distinctively fresh aroma and texture, as every item under the umbrella has been freshly roasted, milled, pounded and packaged.”

A flagship retail outlet from the house of Shahi Foods & Spices, ‘Mashhoor’ is the brainchild of Mohammed Ashraf Mulamparambil and Ibrahim Al Rawahi. Founded in 1986, Shahi Foods & Spices has a legacy spanning over 35 years and is Oman’s leading brand in the categories of pulses, lentils, spices, nuts, dry fruits and Arabic coffee. VIRTUAL COOKING CLASSES CAN IMPROVE CHILDREN'S NUTRITION KNOWLEDGE

Amid parental concerns regarding poor nutrition and lack of cooking skills among youth in Flint, Michigan, a team of local dietitians, chefs, and researchers in the US created Flint Families Cook during the COVID-19 pandemic, a programme for families with children ages 8-18 years old, delivered virtually to children and families in their homes.

The findings of the study were published in the 'Journal of Nutrition Education and Behaviour'.

The Flint Families Cook has demonstrated success in reaching youth from families with low income and improving self-efficacy, nutrition knowledge and self-efficacy for consuming fruits and vegetables among young participants.

It has encouraged families to cook healthy meals together at home, using local ingredients. Through 7.5 hours of live, virtual instruction over five consecutive weeks, children and families have learnt proper techniques for using knives, measuring, sauteing, roasting and baking from a chef, while dietitians have focused on nutrition and health benefits of specific food groups and nutrients.

"One very important part of the class that is happening because of the virtual platform is that families are participating in the classes together as opposed to children participating in the class individually, apart from their family. We started to see parents becoming much more involved in the education and sitting at the table once the meals were prepared for a family dinner," said Amy Saxe-Custack, PhD, MPH, RD, Department of Paediatrics and Human Development, Division of Public Health, Michigan State University-Hurley Children's Hospital Paediatric Public Health Initiative, Flint, MI, USA.

The family-based, virtual format has directly engaged families in cooking healthy meals together and expands the programme's reach to entire households, as well as extended family and friends.

In addition to holding a growing waitlist of eager families, Flint Families Cook has also addressed challenges with preparing and consuming healthy foods at home. Such programming was feasible and attractive to communities with similar concerns about child nutrition. - AMI
