NEW PROGRAMME

OIA's Rawabet to boost corporate governance

MUSCAT: The Oman Investment Authority (OIA) launched a special programme 'Rawabet', as a direct link between the Authority and its companies to enhance their corporate governance and align their policies with Oman Vision 2040.

This follows a recent meeting between Chairman of the Board, and President of OIA, with the Chairmen of Boards of its affiliated companies.

The programme will help OIA's affiliated companies focus on developing sources of economic diversification and enhancing non-oil revenues' contribution to national GDP and attract foreign direct investment to the Sultanate.

'Rawabet' also aims to shed light the private sector's role in developing the Omani economy and promoting successful partnership in local value-added investments, in addition to promoting the securities markets, developing the national workforce, and working on the continuous development of different investment sectors in the Sultanate. >A5

WORLD Protesters clash with cops at London rally

2 Police shut down an anti-coronavirus restrictions protest in central London because crowds did not comply with social distancing rules. At least three protesters and one police officer were reportedly injured and treated by medical staff after they clashed at the anti-lockdown protest in Trafalgar Square. Thousands had gathered in the "we do not consent" rally to protest against government rules, with very few wearing masks. >A6

STUDY HARD FOR YOUR GOALS

Students asked not to leave academics because of new rules

Knowledge is as much about new horizons and skills as salaries, experts say

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Academic experts in Oman have asked students not to quit studying, as the revised minimum wage rulings will not affect them.

They've said that fresh graduates must look for jobs that provide them the right experience, with education playing a vital role in career growth. Their comments came after some students in the country considered dropping out of university to take up a job, as they feel they will be paid just the minimum wage of OMR325, even after obtaining professional qualifications, following the ministry's decision to no longer equate salaries to degrees held by Omani employees.

Speaking to the Times of Oman, Hilal Al Badi, the deputy director of media relations at Sultan Qaboos University, said, "Students at any educational institution should not link a degree only to their jobs. It would be unfair for them to get a certificate just to earn a high salary from the very beginning. All students must realise that knowledge and science open up broader horizons that teach them life skills and increase their awareness."

"There are skills that you learn not just from coming to university and opening your books, but also from the environment there, and by interacting with your fellow students, which enhances your personality and helps you develop the attitude to improve oneself even after you have left university."

Jassim Al Balushi, the deputy head of the Department of Professional Development and Humanities at the College of Engineering at the National University of Science and Technology, said that fresh graduates and students have to shoulder some responsibility in convincing the company hiring them that they are worth more.

"Just because the minimum wage is now OMR325, does not mean you will get only that amount. Your starting salary could be OMR500 or 600, so don't think negatively," he said. "This decision was brought in to ensure everyone has an equal opportunity at getting jobs."

He added, "Let us say there is an SME that wants to hire a skilled worker, and can offer about OMR500 to a fresh graduate. It does not mean only diploma holders can apply for this. If a graduate wants this job, he too can apply for it. It is better to take this job with this salary than just sit at home. If you believe you are worth more, then fight for it."

"At the start of your career, it is more important to look at work experience and not just the salary you get," said Al Balushi. "Once you have gained some experience and skill, then you can expect an increase in payment." >A4

TECHNOLOGY

New device in Oman to help keep homes COVID-free

Times News Service

MUSCAT: An Omani company has brought into the country devices that help reduce people's chances of contracting COVID-19, by helping to disinfect their homes and personal items.

These devices, which uses ultraviolet light that claims to destroy more than 99 percent of germs, are manufactured by Philips, and recently arrived in Oman and other Middle Eastern countries. To make sure they are safe to use for humans, they first underwent testing at the National Emerging Infectious Diseases Laboratories at Boston University in the US.

"We got these devices just a few days ago, and now we will begin promoting them so that there is more awareness about them among people," said Joby Joseph, the general manager for New 4th Dimension LLC, the company importing these into the Sultanate.

Addressing concerns people might have about the harmful nature of ultraviolet rays, he added, "All of our devices have been tested before being made for the public. Their safety features ensure they do not harm people. For example, there is a motion sensor in them that detects when a person walks into a room that is being disinfected. The lamp within automatically shuts off when it detects someone coming into its range."

Other security features include a built-in timer to ensure light is only emitted for a short duration, with the products sold in three variants: a UV lamp, a disinfection chamber, and a disinfection trolley.

Explaining how these work, Joseph added, "The UV lamp is best for disinfecting rooms. Keep the lamp in the middle of the room so that it has maximum effectiveness. If you keep it in the corner, it might not be as efficient."

"Similarly, the disinfection chamber can be used to disinfect all your personal items in a matter of just seconds," he explained.

"One of the most common items we're in touch with all the time is our mobile phone, so if you are concerned about reducing infection through contact with it, just place your phone in the disinfection chamber, and take it out after five seconds. That's all it takes. Using hand sanitiser to clean or disinfect the phone might damage it, but that will not happen here."

While these two devices are very suitable for personal and domestic use, the third type, a trolley on which the UV disinfection lamp is mounted, is better for areas used for public gatherings.

"This has a disinfection radius of 30 square metres," explained Joseph. "It is good for meeting rooms, common areas in hotels, gyms, and even mosques and other prayer halls. You can also keep this in a hotel room for a few minutes, wait for it to disinfect the area, and then move the trolley to the next room. Our devices aim to suit the requirements of all the customers."

OMAN

WHERE: Located approximately 260 kilometres from Muscat, Shinas is a coastal town in the Batinah region. It takes nearly three hours to reach there by road.

WHAT'S SPECIAL: Shinas is known for many castles and forts, Shinas Fort being the popular one. Shinas Fort is less than 700 metres southwest of the town's modern ferry port. It is one of the northernmost fortified structures in Oman.

The four round corner towers of the fort overlook the ferries making their way to Musandam. Other attractions include Baloch Wall, Asrar, Al Sabri Wall and Al Mazari Wall. The Shinas sinkhole is approximately 130 metres wide and vegetation and algae grow in abundance here. There are many traditional buildings in Shinas and the ferry port is a significant transport point. This wilayat has several wadis; Wadi Ajeeb, Wadi Tumait and Wadi Faidh being the popular ones. There are also many mangrove trees growing along the coast.

LIVELIHOOD: Shinas is known for its fertile agricultural plains and irrigation is done by the flowing aflajs. A wide variety of fruits and vegetables are produced here, especially tomatoes and Omani lime. Shinas is known for its seafaring history and currently trades in fish, livestock, vegetables and fruits. The port of Shinas has dhows that are still operated. Although agriculture and fishing are the predominant occupations, people are also involved in traditional crafts including palm work, carpentry and metalwork.

QUALIFICATIONS

<FROM A1 Minimum salary criteria not a dampener for students

Experts also said that wages linked with qualifications exist only in some of the Gulf countries. “Very few developed countries in the world follow this practice. So it is good that Oman will now follow wages based on skills and not on degrees,” an expert said.

Recently, US President Donald Trump signed an executive order on June 26 that directs the federal government to take the emphasis off whether a job candidate has a college degree and instead assess an applicant's job skills.

Shahswar Al Balushi, the head of Oman's Tanfeedh Labour Labs, said the decision has been taken to increase competition among Omanis for jobs, and to encourage them in sharpening their skills.

Experts also said that in private sector employees get rewarded based on their performance. “So it is very important to continue with their education which help them in improving their skills,” experts said.

Moaz, a student at Sultan Qaboos University, said he considered dropping out of university to take up a job, as he felt there was no point in earning a low salary after committing so many years to study.

Discouraging and frustrating “This is discouraging, frustrating, and dampens our motivation,” he said. “I don't mind saying openly that I had thought of quitting studies and finding a job, because what is the point of studying for 12 years in school, getting good grades so that I can go to a good university, leave my hometown and come to Muscat, study for the last five years, during which I have faced many challenges, and then see a disappointing future in front of me? My family is waiting for me to support them financially, and they have overcome difficulties to try and help me find a good job with a well-paid salary.”

Adding to this, the mother of four Omani children admitted she was waiting for them to finish university and take up jobs that would help them financially support the family. She wondered, though, whether that would be possible if they were to earn only the minimum wage.

“I have three sons and a daughter, one is at university and the rest are in school,” she revealed, without wishing to be named.

Pension “We provide them with clothes and accommodation from my husband's pension, which is only OMR200 a month. We are working hard to make our children study and get good jobs.”

“How can my children support themselves and buy a car, a house, and pay for their wedding in the future, when they earn the same as those who don't have good qualifications?” she added.

“The problem is that companies will use this as a pretext to determine an employee's salary without considering his qualifications. There are many citizens who really need to find work and save for their future.”

Another student, enrolled in one of the country's College of Applied Sciences, said, “This will have a negative impact on students enrolled in academic institutions in the country. I am concerned that everyone will be on the same salary of OMR325, which is meagre. All the hard work and financial problems people have faced to receive an education will be wasted.

“Many students will then leave school because they know there is no benefit from higher education, and they might go to other fields, but what is worse is that illiteracy and a lack of awareness might spread and affect parts of society,” she added.

However, Khalifa Al Hinai, a lawyer in the country, added that skilled workers would always receive more money.

“Competitive salaries are given to those who prove their capabilities,” he said. “Companies, especially in the private sector, do not look at the certificate their employees have, but pay more attention to skill development.”

With you, everywhere.

Shura discusses issue of jobseekers with union

Times News Service

MUSCAT: In a meeting with the General Federation of Oman Workers on Sunday, Majlis Al Shura reaffirmed that the issue of jobseekers and the manpower working in the private sector are among its priorities. It also stressed the significance of taking into account the qualifications and specialisations of Omanis while fixing the minimum wage for them.

Majlis Al Shura discussed the internal circular No. 3/2020 issued by the Ministry of Labour for OMR325 wages regardless of the qualification of jobseekers.

The Majlis Al Shura also pointed to the approval of employment contracts by the Ministry of Labour in case of an amicable agreement between the employee and the employer in light of the legal requirements.

Opinion of union

Majlis tried to know the opinion of the General Federation of Oman Workers on the consequences of the internal circular of the Ministry of Labour and to acquaint with the reaction of the community to the same.

Majlis Al Shura had earlier conducted a study on 'employment of national manpower' which has come out with a number of recommendations including offering incentives to reduce the differences between the government sector and the private sector.

The meeting was chaired by Sheikh Khalid bin Hilal Al Mawali in the presence of Sheikh Said bin Hamad Al Saadi, vice chairman of Majlis, members of the Office of Majlis, members of the Youth and Human Resources Committee and a number of members.

From the General Federation of Oman Workers, it was attended by Is'haq bin Jumah Al Kharousi, Chairman of the General Federation of Oman Workers; Ali bin Amer Ambusaidi, assistant to chairman of General Federation of Oman Workers for studies and regional and international relations; Mahboub bin Mohammed Al Rahili, assistant to chairman of General Federation of Oman Workers for Labour Legislations; Mohammed bin Talib Al Saadi, Director General of General Federation of Oman Workers and a number of officials from the General Federation of Oman Workers.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Pact for COVID test of students

Times News Service

MUSCAT: The Oman Society for Petroleum Services (OPAL) has signed an agreement with the Ministry of Higher Education, Scientific Research and Innovation to support the COVID-19 examinations of students studying abroad for the academic year 2020/2021.

This new agreement for OPAL comes within the framework of its efforts to support all community programmes and activities as part of its social responsibility during the pandemic.

The agreement was signed by Dr Bakhit bin Ahmed bin Suhail Al Mahri, Undersecretary of the Ministry of Higher Education, Scientific Research and Innovation, and Abdulrahman bin Humaid Al Yahyai, CEO of Oman Society for Petroleum Services (OPAL).

This agreement aims to provide free examinations to 650 male and female students studying abroad on scholarship as per the lists specified by the Ministry of Higher Education, Scientific Research and Innovation.

In order to achieve the desired goals of the programme, OIA will involve all relevant sectors, such as investment, asset management, risk & compliance, human resources, procurement & contract operations, asset allocation, finance, information technology, corporate communication, legal affairs, and auditing, to ensure their strategic implementation of government companies' alignment with the national goals, to positively contribute in achieving Oman 2040 vision.

It is hopeful that Rawabet will help enhance the performance of OIA's companies to achieve their goals and overcome all associated challenges, in addition to creating a strong partnership with the private sector that supports the involvement of a bigger share of private sector establishments. The programme will also help create a comprehensive plan to prepare these companies' investments in ICV initiatives, as well as exiting from investments or listing in financial markets and other areas that help create new job opportunities. 'Rawabet' will also work as a platform for the exchange of resources and expertise on best investment practice, through planning joint team activities that can enhance their general performance.

INDIANA JUDGE

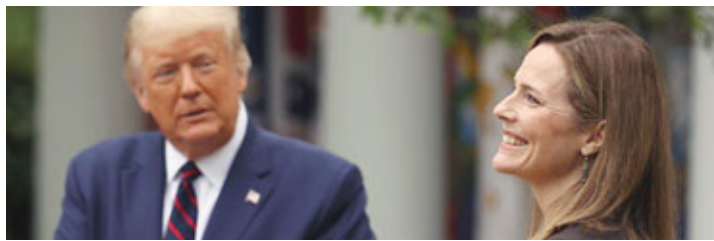

Trump picks conservative Amy Barrett as Supreme Court nominee

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump announced on Saturday that conservative Indiana judge Amy Coney Barrett would be his pick for the Supreme Court.

"Today it is my honour to nominate one of our nation's most brilliant and gifted legal minds to the Supreme Court," Trump said of Barrett at an official ceremony in the White House Rose Garden.

"She is a woman of unparalleled achievement, towering intellect, sterling credentials and unyielding loyalty to the Constitution," he added.

Barrett, a former clerk to the late Justice Antonin Scalia, said she was "truly humbled" by the nomination and quickly aligned herself with Scalia's conservative approach to the law, saying his "judicial philosophy is mine, too."

"I love the United States and I love the United States Constitution," Barrett said. "A judge must apply the law as written. Judges are not policy makers."

The decision will put an outspoken opponent of abortion in place of Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, the liberal icon who died earlier this month.

Speedy confirmation

Republican senators are hoping for a swift confirmation of Barrett ahead of the November 3 election, as they aim to lock in conservative gains in the federal judiciary.

Trump backed this notion as he said: "It should be a straightforward and prompt confirmation."

Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said the Senate will vote "in the weeks ahead" on Barrett's confirmation. ANI

CORONAVIRUS

Protesters clash with police at London anti-lockdown rally

LONDON: Police has shut down an anti-coronavirus restrictions protest in central London on Saturday because crowds have not complied with social distancing rules.

At least three protesters and one police officer were reportedly injured and treated by medical staff after they clashed at the anti-lockdown protest in Trafalgar Square. Thousands had gathered in the "we do not consent" rally to protest against government rules, with very few wearing masks.

BBC reported police officers penned the crowd in Trafalgar Square as water and bottles were thrown at them by demonstrators, while police removed sound equipment and used batons against protesters, leaving some with visible injuries.

A Metropolitan Police statement said that those who stayed could face criminal penalties because they "have not complied with the conditions of their risk assessment and are putting people in danger of transmitting the virus".

"This has voided their risk assessment and we have informed the event organisers they are no longer exempt from the regulations."

The rally came a week after a separate event which saw more than a dozen officers injured and more than 32 arrests were made.

Rules in England limit indoor and outdoor gatherings to six people. Protests are exempt from the rule-of-six restrictions, but demonstrators must maintain social distance and a risk assessment must be submitted by organizers.

On Friday, London was placed on the national COVID-19 "watch list" as an area of high concern. As the coronavirus cases continue to rise in the British capital, the mayor of London, Sadiq Khan, warned that London is "at a very worrying tipping point right now."

Meanwhile, countries, such as Britain, China, Russia and the United States, are racing against time to develop coronavirus vaccines. Xinhua

SUCCESSFUL FORMULA ONE DRIVER: Hamilton had taken a pole position in a dramatic qualifying race at the Russian Grand Prix on Saturday after narrowly avoiding early elimination when Sebastian Vettel crashed.

Lewis Hamilton will try to match Schumacher's record of 91 F1 wins at the Russian Grand Prix

PARIS: 23-time Grand Slam winner Serena Williams is rooting for Lewis Hamilton to break Michael Schumacher's record of being the most successful Formula One driver.

Serena Williams labelled Hamilton as the greatest driver of this generation and this statement might just come true later today as Mercedes' Hamilton will try to match Schumacher's record of 91 F1 wins later today at the Russian Grand Prix. "Lewis Hamilton and I have been super close, we have known each other for years, I love that guy, he has such a champion mindset, I look at what he does in training. He is for me, the greatest driver our generation has seen and I am confident that he will break the record of Michael Schumacher," said Serena in a video posted on the official handle of F1. "He lives his life on his sleeve, he says what he says, and this is the one thing I really appreciate about him," she added. Hamilton had taken a pole position in a dramatic qualifying race at the Russian Grand Prix on Saturday after narrowly avoiding early elimination when Sebastian Vettel crashed. Hamilton claimed his 96th pole position by a huge 0.563s from Max Verstappen despite coming within a matter of seconds of being knocked out of Q2 in a qualifying session that saw Sebastian Vettel crash heavily to bring out the red flags. Hamilton had his Q2 time deleted for a track limits infringement leaving him in the drop zone when Vettel crashed at Turn 4 with just over two minutes left of the session, bringing out the red flags. When the session was restarted, Hamilton crossed the line with less than two seconds to spare to begin his flying run - his last chance to get into Q3. He then posted the fourth quickest time to make it to the pole position shoot out. A stunning first lap in Q3 from the six-time champion then saw him establish a new track record with a 1m 31.391s effort before the Briton narrowly improved it on his second run to claim what was only his second pole position at the Sochi Autodrom - while Valtteri Bottas, who'd led Q1 and looked fast all weekend, will have been hugely disappointed not to at least make the front row. ANI

Djokovic vows not to make US Open mistake twice

PARIS: World No. 1 Novak Djokovic on Saturday discussed his disqualification from this month's US Open and vowed not to make such a mistake again. The controversial incident happened in Djokovic's last-16 clash at Flushing Meadows against Spain's Pablo Carreno Busta, as the Serbian smashed a ball in frustration which struck a line judge in the neck, causing her to fall to the ground. After a discussion of around 10 minutes between tournament referees and officials, Djokovic was disqualified from the match in accordance with the rules, even though the 17-time Grand Slam winner had not intended to strike the line judge. "I am going to be extra careful hitting a tennis ball around the court. That's something that is obviously staying in my mind after what happened in New York," Djokovic said in a press conference before the French Open. "Of course, I will make sure I don't make the same mistake twice," he added. His unexpected exit at the US Open didn't affect Djokovic's subsequent performance, as the 33-year-old clinched his 36th Masters title in Rome on Monday, defeating old rival Rafael Nadal. At Roland Garros, Djokovic has another record to achieve - becoming the first men's player in Open Era history to win each of the four Grand Slam titles at least twice. The top seed is to kick off his bid for an 18th Grand Slam title with a first-round game against Sweden's Mikael Ymer. This year's French Open at Roland Garros is to take place from September 27 to October 11. Xinhua

Shubman Gill deserves all success: Morgan

COMPLIMENTS: Morgan's remark came as KKR defeated Sunrisers Hyderabad by seven wickets at the Sheikh Zayed Stadium in Abu Dhabi.

ABU DHABI: Kolkata Knight Riders' (KKR) middle-order batsman Eoin Morgan has said that Shubman Gill is very pleasing to watch on the eye and the opening batsman deserves all the success. His remark came as KKR defeated Sunrisers Hyderabad by seven wickets at the Sheikh Zayed Stadium in Abu Dhabi. The Dinesh Karthik-led side chased down a total of 143 with 12 balls to spare. For KKR, Gill and Eoin Morgan remained unbeaten on 70 and 42 respectively. Both Morgan and Gill got together at the crease when KKR was at 53/3, but the duo formed an unbeaten stand of 92 runs to take the side over the line by seven wickets. "Nice feeling to get a win under our belt. It's a long tournament, but obviously, this win helps us get some momentum and confidence going. We were a bit rusty in our last game against MI, but we won this match with our bowlers, they did a great job restricting a very strong Sunrisers batting lineup. The wickets of Bairstow and Warner at the top put us in a good position. They put them on the back-foot and we knew we didn't have to put ourselves under pressure in the chase," Morgan told host broadcaster Star Sports after the match. "I didn't have to tell him (Gill) a great deal, to be honest, he's beautiful to watch on the eye, good bat swing, very languid style, magnificent to watch, he's good kid, very hungry to learn and I would love to bat with him once again. I think he deserves all the success. The pitches have been a bit different, you can't be fixated by one pitch, but with the nature of the heat, it should change considerably as the tournament wears on. You should take each game as it comes and try to adapt, stick to your game plan, and hopefully, it works," he added. KKR restricted Sunrisers to just 142/4 in the allotted twenty overs as all the bowlers displayed clinical performances. Pat Cummins was the standout bowler as he ended with figures of 1-19 from his quota of four overs and he also managed to bag the wicket of Jonny Bairstow. Cummins had a poor performance against Mumbai Indians as he conceded more than 50 runs in his four overs, but he was able to bounce back against Hyderabad. Speaking about Cummins, Gill said: "He is a world-class bowler, he is probably one of the best bowlers in the world, one odd day doesn't matter to us, he is a world-class bowler and he bowled really well against SunRisers Hyderabad." KKR has so far played two matches in this year's IPL and the side has won one match. The Dinesh Karthik-led side will next lock horns with Rajasthan Royals on September 30. ANI

We want to strike back against Arsenal: Klopp

LIVERPOOL: Ahead of the match against Arsenal in the Premier League, Liverpool's coach Jurgen Klopp has said that his side will be looking to take the revenge of the loss in the FA Community Shield. Arsenal and Liverpool are slated to lock horns against each other on Monday, September 28 at the Anfield Stadium. In July, Arteta's Arsenal had defeated Liverpool during the 2019-20 Premier League season and in August, Arsenal once again beat Liverpool to lift the FA Community Shield. "We want to strike back. Let me say it like this - that is the situation we are in and it can be a better situation depending on how we use it. Results give confidence, but the analysis is there so you can judge the games in the right way," Goal.com quoted Klopp as saying. "It's not like Arsenal smashed us and we had absolutely no chance, so they know it's a different game and we know it's a different game. So the last result, in this case, is not too long ago, it's just one information and not the only information," he added. Liverpool will be without skipper Jordan Henderson for the match against Arsenal. This could lead to Thiago Alcantara making his debut for Liverpool at the Anfield Stadium, following his arrival from Bayern Munich. Jurgen Klopp's side have not been beaten at Anfield Stadium in the Premier League since April 2017. ANI

Multiple ICC staff members test COVID-19 positive

NEW DELHI: Multiple staff members of the International Cricket Council have been tested positive for the coronavirus, a source in the ICC said. The positive members of the ICC headquarters based in Dubai are in mandatory isolation at the moment as per the health protocols of the UAE. However, this will not affect the ongoing Indian Premier League (IPL), which is being played at the three venues -- Dubai, Sharjah and Abu Dhabi -- in the UAE.

Speaking to ANI, a source in the ICC said, "ICC staffers have been tested positive. Affected staff members are isolating as per local protocols and those who have been in close contact are also asked to isolate themselves. To be extra careful we are having the office deep cleaned so people will work from home for a few days. It was something we were very prepared for, so it is being managed very well and it will not affect IPL at all." ANI

Pact for management of new warehouse in Al Sawadi inked

The partnership between OOMCO and Al Madina Logistics will help improve the logistics support for various products and provide excellent service to the clients

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Oman Oil Marketing Company (OOMCO) signed an agreement with Al Madina Logistics (AMLS) for the management of OOMCO's new central warehouse.

The integrated logistics solutions and services company will take over handling and maintaining storage of all products, along with operations of the new storage facility in Al Sawadi.

This partnership with AMLS allows the fuel marketing company to build on its reputation as the most customer-centric fuel marketer in both consumer and business-to-business aspects, and allows it to invest in local human capital and fully satisfy customer needs.

"We are always working on building long-term and equally beneficial partnerships with local companies. Our latest agreement with Al Madina Logistics is a great addition to this portfolio, and their expertise, equipment and information technology will certainly be an added value to our operations," said Ali Muqabail General Manager of Strategy, Business Development, Marketing and Digital at Oman Oil Marketing Company. "Our 3PL logistics partnership with OOMCO has spanned several years, and we welcome this opportunity to extend our 4PL warehouse management services to them as a continuation of the trust OOMCO has placed in us," said Mahmood Sakhi Al Balushi, CEO of Al Madina Logistics.

"Al Madina Logistics has seen solid growth in the warehouse management sector, showing that the model works and provides the cost efficiencies needed to allow customers to focus on their core business functions and be more competitive," he added.

"Combining Oman Oil Marketing Company's customer centric approach with Al Madina Logistics' leading solutions will improve the logistics support for our products and provide excellent service to our clients," said Talib Omar Al Maadi General Manager of Supply Chain at Oman Oil Marketing Company.

"As a company with a large service portfolio, we continuously focus on enriching the experiences of our business and consumer clients and fulfilling their needs as best as we could," he further added

This agreement with Al Madina Logistics is one of many collaborations the company has developed with local corporations that provide services with passion and care.

Today, OOMCO maintains a network of 225 service stations and 108 Ahlain Convenience Stores located throughout all regions of the Sultanate and aims to be among the top 5 fuel marketers in the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) by 2025.

CORPORATE REVAMP

Raysut Cement brings on board young leaders at key management positions

Times News Service

MUSCAT: Oman's largest cement manufacturer, Raysut Cement Company (RCC), announced a significant corporate revamp bringing on board young leaders from within the organisation to new roles at key positions of the top management, on Sunday.

In a statement, the Muscat Securities Market (MSM)-listed company said bringing new leaders to steer the company has been done at a time of crucial regional and global expansion of Raysut into new and diverse markets of Eastern Europe, East Africa and Asia, which necessitates strong and competent young managers who can complement the company's vision to be one of the leading global cement players.

"We are confident that the new young leaders will bring in fresh structuring, Salim Ahmed Alawi Al Ibrahim has been promoted as Acting Deputy Group CEO, who will now support and complement the leadership of Raysut's Group CEO, Joey Ghose. Salim has been with Raysut since 2014 and has been contributing significantly to the company in his earlier role in the sales department.

Mohammed Ahmed Aideded has been promoted as the Acting GM of Raysut. Mohammed, armed with over 10 years of experience in sales and marketing, has been working with Raysut since 2009, starting his career as a sales representative and moving up to managerial positions subsequently.

Prior to the current role, Mohammed had also held senior positions such as Head of Marketing and Business Intelligence, Acting CEO and Head of Business Support.

"The two young professionals are taking on the new mantles at a time when Raysut has already expanded its footprints into new markets and they will have a robust role to play in this dynamic business scenario," Ghose further added.

DATA SECURITY

Omantel takes concrete steps to bolster cybersecurity

Times News Service

MUSCAT: As businesses, organisations and individuals have begun to exceedingly depend on the Internet and telecommunications for business and services, the need for data security and cyber defence cannot be emphasised enough.

Omantel, the Sultanate's pioneering and trusted telecommunications service provider, has remained steadfast in aligning its efforts with Oman's national information security strategy, which is based on international best practices, while understanding national and regional service demands.

Commenting on this, Abdullah Hamood Al Barwani, GM Corporate Security from Omantel said: "Telecom networks are the backbone of any information exchange. They are usually the target of malicious and criminal attacks - especially with recent developments in IP-based communications networks. These systems are subject to all forms of digital sabotage, data privacy violation and theft. Therefore, data integrity and security become a priority for us at Omantel".

Al Barwani added: "Omantel understands these potential threats and works relentlessly to safeguard its systems on which Oman's corporate organizations rely on. The company is one of the pioneering organisations to adopt the best international standards, policies and practices in information security and was among the first companies globally to adopt and implement the ISO 27701 for privacy and data protection which is scheduled to be completed in 2020. It is worth mentioning that obtaining the ISO Certificate, Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard (PCO-DSS) and Content Management Interoperability Services Certificate (CMIS-OEM) are a testimony of the company's data security initiatives".

"Omantel takes pride in maintaining a clean record while protecting the privacy of customers as the company does not sell, trade or lease any personal information. The company's advanced risk management framework is based on internationally recognized best practice. Omantel has implemented the guidelines and practices of the GSM Association (GSMA), an industry organisation representing interests of mobile network operators worldwide. Omantel has also works closely with GSMA in the development of global security guidelines for Internet of Things (IoT) and was among the first companies to implement GSMA guidelines on obtaining business opportunities in this field. In recognition of its contribution to the GSMA vision, Omantel was awarded the 'IoT Security Champion Award' concluded Al Barwani.

Omantel's one of the main achievements in cybersecurity, the around clock Cyber Defence Centre with a noticeable development from 0.8 to 2.9 in a period of no more than two years according to the CMMI rate and uses artificial intelligence to achieve response to security incidents. In 2017, Omantel launched its information security strategy to secure its own assets and those of its subscribers.

ROUND-UP

Danube Home launches all new 'My Garden 2021' e-Catalogue

With Danube Home garden solutions, customers can get the feeling of a mini-staycation every time they step out into their outdoor space, balconies, terraces, backyards dressed the media and other esteemed guests virtually.

"The COVID-19 pandemic made 2020 a challenging year with travel restrictions, social distancing, and fear in the air. At the same time, it offered a chance for individuals and organisations to reset and reshape the world in a more sustainable way. Following this shift with the new normal, Danube Home decided to take the paperless route with our all-new Garden e-catalogue 2021. The new exhaustive e-catalogue is loaded with Danube Home outdoor product range along with insightful information about each of them. It is designed to be easy-to-use, with high-quality visuals all organised into easy-to-navigate sections," commented Adel Sajan, Director Danube Home.

The concept of the new Garden Catalogue 2021 is - 'Bring in the outdoor'. With their new product offering, Danube Home brings the outdoor ambience to home exteriors. A major part of 2020 saw people working and staying home due to COVID-19. With Danube Home garden solutions, customers can get the feeling of a mini-staycation every time they step out into their outdoor space. Balconies, terraces, backyards, and lawns can be designed to entertain family and friends, provide a place for kids to take a break from their electronic devices and play outside or to simply relax and enjoy moments of solitude all the while staying safe at home.

"The Garden 2021 e-catalogue is seamlessly integrated with our e-commerce website. This means that customers can simply click on the product they like on the e-catalogue to navigate to the specific product page on the site and find detailed information and videos of the product. Once they like what they see, they can add to cart and checkout with ease", said Sayed Habib, General Manager Buying Danube Home.

"We consistently strive to provide the best product range for our customers and with our new Garden 2021 collection, our customers are sure to be spoiled for choice in all categories, whether it is outdoor flooring solutions, gazebos, umbrellas, sofas, balcony furniture, lighting, garden ornaments, kids play or outdoor bar and barbecue sets. We also have an expert team of professionals who can landscape with our lifelike artificial grass and plants that look great without the maintenance hassle. This year we have added many new products for the kids play area as well as barbecue sets, camping solutions, and artificial plants. I would like to thank my team for the efforts they have put to make a diverse portfolio of products available to appeal to the aesthetics of every customer," he added.

Danube Home also offers free garden design services which make them even more appealing.

"We are happy to see that customers are keener than ever to design their home exteriors. We've had customers who wanted to convert even parking areas to a garden," Sayed Habib said.

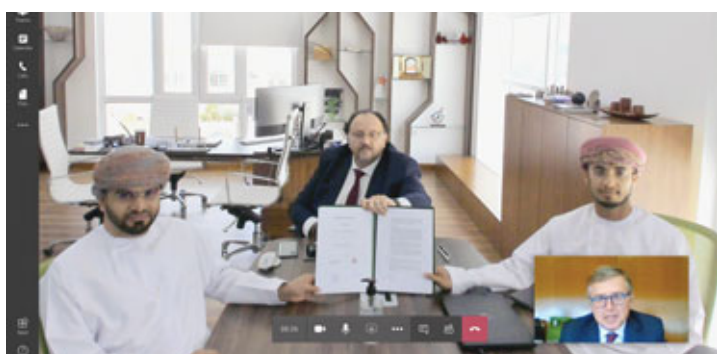

At the launch, Danube Home also showcased customer testimonial videos featuring some of their happy customers and a look at how the designers at Danube Home completely transformed customers' outdoor spaces into dream gardens.

Shubhojit Mahalanobis, General Manager Danube Home said, "After experiencing a challenging period in March-April 2020, we have come back with a bang thanks to our diverse portfolio of products, our adherence to stringent safety protocols, and new and improved strategies in place. Since this period, the global furniture market has also been seeing steady growth as people are now focusing on improving their homes owing to the travel restrictions and COVID-19 related safety protocols. The demand for outdoor furniture is also rising as more and more people have started realizing that living space is not just confined to the walls around them. We as a retailer continuously strive to explore avenues for seamless experience while shopping at all platforms. So I am sure that with the e-catalogue, ecommerce business and brick-and-mortar stores, our customers shall get enthralled as a complete package."

ECO-FRIENDLY LPG CYLINDER

Muscat Gases Co. announces contract with Amtrol-Alfa

MUSCAT: Muscat Gases Company (MGC) has announced the contract with Amtrol-Alfa who is the biggest manufacturer in the world, bringing the lightweight, eco-friendly Type IV LPG cylinder named Fourtis in the market. This brings a significant impact on end user's lives which makes MGC a pioneer in such new service in the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC).

Fourtis is made of fully recycled materials, which is highly valued in the industry as it saves on decommissioning costs and is terrific for the environment.

Fourtis is a lightweight (5-kg without valve), durable, composite cylinder that is wrapped in a customisable, easy-to-clean polymeric jacket with an ergonomic handle. It is demountable, making reassembling easy, and has a lower maintenance cost than steel cylinders.

OMAN ARAB BANK

OAB opens its new branch in Sinaw

MUSCAT: Oman Arab Bank (OAB) has opened its new branch in Sinaw, in North A'Sharqiyah, after reallocating to the entrance of the Wilayat, next to the Shell Petrol Station. Strategically positioned, the branch will allow easy access for OAB's customers to conduct their banking transactions.

Highlighting the importance of the branch transformation, Rashad Al Shaikh, Acting Head of the Retail Banking Division at OAB, said, "The Bank's strategy focuses on the development and transformation of our branch network to create a unique banking experience for all our customers and to enhance our share in the market with unparalleled level of services. We believe that our customers in Sinaw and the surrounding towns will be able to benefit from the location of the new branch."

Similar to the other transformed branches, the Sinaw branch features an enhanced brand identity, with a refreshed look and feel and contemporary design. The branch transformation is further complemented by several facilities and systems that are a part of the Bank's transformation strategy. The new branch seeks to provide an exceptional, integrated customer experience, starting from entering the waiting area to conducting the required banking transactions. The branch also features screens that promote OAB's latest products and services, moving monitors to allow for more private advisory spaces, as well as signature pads and ID card readers.

The new branch also features a dedicated reception desk, Majlis, and RM offices for "Elite" customers to provide them with an exclusive, private and memorable banking experience. The objective is to bring together distinct designs and meet the Bank's transformational goals, which revolves around enriching customer experience based on the high-level of offered services.

The design is inspired by the 'Omani Skyline', with the colour white representing Omani architecture, brown symbolising desert sands, grey a reflection of the mountains, and blue glass overhangs resembling the sky. A key aspect of the Bank's transformational goals, this unique design emphasises the importance we give to elevating the customer experience by providing a high-level of services. "In addition to our branch transformational strategy, OAB has extensively invested in its digital infrastructure over the years, to provide efficient solutions for customers who prefer to carry out their banking requirements digitally. Today, we can confidently say that we have successfully met our customer needs all across the Sultanate, and we continue to exceed their expectations on both our digital and traditional channels," Rashad added.

OAB has a rich and proud history as one of the first financial institutions established in the Sultanate. Today, the bank operates a nationwide network of 54 branches and representative offices with 152 ATMs spread across Oman. OAB provides a complete range of financial products and services for personal banking and corporate banking clients.

FOR AL MUSTAQBAL CLUB IN BAHLA

Bank Muscat celebrates the opening of Green Sports stadium

MUSCAT: In line with the bank's commitment to community development and promoting Oman as a sporting nation, Bank Muscat, the leading financial services provider in the Sultanate, handed over a football field developed as part of its Green Sports programme to the Al Mustaqbal Team in Bahla. The Green Sports field was handed over at a special ceremony held under the auspices of H E Wali bin Nasser bin Amer Al Shukaili, Member of State Council, Saif bin Rashid Al Shukaili, Chairman of the Al Mustaqbal Team, Omani football star Ali Al Habsi and officials from the bank.

Given the current phase of social distancing, the event was livestreamed on the bank's social media channels for the benefit of the club supporters and the general public. Bank Muscat has so far provided support to 123 sports teams across different governorates since the launch of the Bank's flagship CSR programme in 2012.

Addressing the gathering, Khalfan Abdullah Al-Rashdi, Assistant Regional Manager - North Dakhiliyah, Bank Muscat, congratulated the management, players and fans of the team and said: "The landmark Green Sports programme from Bank Muscat has been contributing substantially to strengthening its role in the field of corporate social responsibility and encouraging Omani youth by providing green sports fields to develop their talents and skills. The programme also helps in the organising of various sporting events and activities in communities all across the country. Bank Muscat is very happy to celebrate the opening of this new green sports field and wish the Al Mustaqbal Team all the very best."

Eng. Salem bin Ali Al-Riyami,

Head of the Future Team, delivered a speech on the occasion of the opening, in which he valued the efforts made by public and private community institutions and their contributions to the success of this project for youth empowerment. He pointed out in his speech that the greening and lighting project of the team's stadium began three years ago when the site was nothing but a barren piece of land. He thanked Bank Muscat and the private sector for turning the place into a beautiful stadium for the benefit of the community, supporting sports and motivating the youth in meaningful community activities. At the end of the ceremony, the technical committee overseeing the implementation of the stadium, Bank Muscat, the management of the Club, and all its institutional and individual supporters were honored for their valuable support.

The bank is continuing with its flagship CSR programme for the ninth year in 2020 and is supporting the development of a further 15 football fields across Oman. It is one of the most successful sustainability programmes of the bank and its support for sports teams include greening of football fields with natural or synthetic turf, floodlights or water desalination equipment in areas facing problems of water salinity.

The programme aims to develop a sustainable sports infrastructure across the Sultanate, thereby providing a means to channelise the energy and talents of the youth in a productive way, besides helping local communities develop stronger bonds and a greater spirit of partnership and cooperation.

It is contributing to the emergence of more Omani talent in football and also has a positive impact on the environment and nature.
